

Two Differ On Funds For Viet

Fight War First, Is Dirksen Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case said today the conflict in Viet Nam must not be allowed to pinch off funds for the war on discrimination, poverty, disease and ignorance at home.

But Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said that "we must fight the war first" and that domestic programs are going to have to be cut back to provide for sharp increases in the defense budget.

Asks More for Schools

Case, New Jersey Republican who is a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, called in a statement for increased federal outlays for education. He said that "the federal contribution has become a vital ingredient in our total educational effort and we simply cannot afford to scale back this effort at any level, federal, state or local."

"There is a wide range of federal activities, many of them recently authorized or expanded, that bear importantly on national goals with the same top priority as our commitment in Viet Nam," Case said. "The wars we wage against discrimination, poverty, disease and ignorance are also vital to our long-run security."

Sides With Kennedy

Case thus lined up with neighboring Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., who said recently that Viet Nam costs must not be permitted to delay or diminish domestic programs. But it was obvious Case was not in tune with Republican leadership thinking.

Dirksen declined in a telephone interview to comment on Case's stand. But he made it clear he believes something has to be done when it comes to balancing off domestic expenditures with the mounting costs in Viet Nam.

"Can't Cut on War"

"This is one of the big headaches the President has," Dirksen said. "He is probably going to have to take the $100-billion lid off his new budget. To keep expenditures in balance, he is going to have to cut somewhere and he certainly can't cut on the war."

"When you are in a war you extricate yourself the best way you can, honorably. Short of giving up and pulling out, which would be unthinkable, we are going to have to put into South Viet Nam whatever is necessary. We've got to fight the war first and hold down domestic expenditures."

On the Democratic side of the fence, Sen. John L. McClellan of Arkansas called for a moratorium on new federal spending programs because of the war. In a speech Tuesday at North Little Rock, Ark., he said "we've got to decide where to retrench."

Thieves Net Haul Of $3,400 From Safe in Highland

A safe burglary at the Highland branch of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston Monday night or early Tuesday netted the intruders $3,400 in cash, it was reported by authorities.

State Police BCI Investigator Michael Lisman investigated with Federal Bureau of Investigation agents and uniformed troopers, after the burglary had been discovered yesterday morning by a bank official.

Authorities reported the 400-pound safe had been removed from an office section of the bank building and taken to the rear where it was ripped open.

Applications Remain Open for Apartments

Reports that applications are closed for Wiltwyck and Colonial Gardens are untrue, according to Alexander Yosman, executive director of the Kingston Housing Authority.

Yosman said he has learned that many eligible residents of the city are under the impression that since all 60 units at Wiltwyck Gardens and the 98 units at Colonial Gardens are filled, there is no use in filing applications. "This is not the case," Yosman said today, "because there has always been an annual turnover of up to 25 apartments a year at Colonial Gardens and it is anticipated that there will be availability at Wiltwyck Gardens each year."

"Therefore," Yosman added,

Republicans Score Dem Reapport Plan

A Democratic reapportionment plan embracing Poughkeepsie and three Dutchess townships with the Towns of Marlboro and Ulster was sharply criticized by Republicans in Albany today.

The new assembly district No. 98 would include the Dutchess towns of Fishkill, Wappingers and Beacon with the total population of about 109,000. Both Marlboro and Ulster have Democratic supervisors.

Drafted by Advisors

The new plan was drafted by six Democratic appointed advisers authorized to formulate an acceptable reapportionment program.

In the plan the remaining 17 Dutchess townships and all of Putnam County would be included in another district, No. 97.

Wilson Pre-files Sales Tax Change, Lottery Measures

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson (R), Ulster County, has pre-filed several additional pieces of legislation for the 1966 session of the State Legislature, including measures to amend the new State Sales Tax, the General Business Law and the State Constitution in relation to the proposed new state lottery.

Last year the legislature passed bills to allow the state to institute a lottery as a means of raising additional revenue for educational purposes. Such a measure would require constitutional amendment, and will have to be passed again by the legislature before it can be put on the ballot for a public vote on the question of whether or not to allow a lottery in New York State.

Assemblyman Wilson said he has opposed efforts to allow off-track betting in the state, but that he would support a lottery to raise funds for education. In view of this, he has pre-filed a bill to institute a lottery, and if the measure is again approved by the legislature, the matter will be placed on the ballot next fall.

Several measures affecting the State Sales Tax are under consideration by Assemblyman Wilson, and he has already pre-filed one bill which would allow retailers to retain a percentage of the tax money collected to compensate them for the added bookkeeping costs involved with the new tax.

Wilson stated that under the provisions of his bill all merchants will be allowed to keep 3 per cent of the first $100 of tax money collected; 2 per cent of all amounts between $100 and $500; 1 per cent on all amounts between $500 and $1,000 and one half of one per cent on all amounts over $1,000.

The Ulster assemblyman added that there are several sections of the new tax measure which need correcting to clear up much of the existing confusion and make the law more understandable.

Colonial Gardens, which consists of 10 three and one half room apartments, 60 four and one half room apartments and 28 five and one half room apartments has a rental range from $48 to $60 per month.

Wiltwyck Gardens, which consists of 30 two and one half room apartments and 30 three and one half room apartments, has a rental range from $44 to $48 per month. The rentals include all utilities.

Orders Fire Station to Be Reopened

Fire Chief James M. Brett today announced that he has ordered Cornell Fire Station at 90 Abel Street reactivated effective at 11 a. m. today.

It was closed last April, the chief noted, because of the city's failure "to provide the necessary manpower to compensate for reduced working hours mandated by the Forty-Eight Hour Law, enacted by the State Government."

Effective Jan. 1, 1963, "This law became effective on Jan. 1, 1963 and provided for a 25 per cent yearly reduction of a paid fireman's weekly working hours until an average of 48 hours is obtained. Full compliance of the law is effective Jan. 1, 1967."

Cornell Station was closed for the same reason, the chief noted, from Aug. 4, 1964 to Sept. 21, of that year. He continued: "On June 26, 1964 at a fire at the Deyo cider mill (Flatbush Avenue) four firemen were burned or injured, requiring hospitalization, further depleting the already critically deficient manpower force." At that time, he said, he issued an order placing the entire department on an emergency status, and this order is still in effect. He explained further:

"Cornell Fire Station will be in operation during the hazardous winter months of January and February and will be closed again the first week in March. It is planned to reopen the station in December 1966, through January and February of 1967."

Cites Vacancies

"In addition to the 12 vacancies occasioned by the state law, there are vacancies in the table of organization consisting of five firemen and two dispatchers."

"At the present time there is no available civil service lists from which these vacancies may be filled, and the latest publicly announced examination for firemen produced only three applicants."

The Board of Fire Commissioners has attempted to remedy this situation by employing emergency firemen and dispatchers until such eligible civil service lists become available. Up to the present time, it has been possible to secure only two emergency firemen and one emergency dispatcher to fill these seven vacancies," the chief said.

See Democrat Win

If the plan were voted, adds Donald Zimmerman, the Democrats would win the Assembly, 90-60, in November and stand a "very good chance" of winning the Senate.

Zimmerman, one of the chief architects of a Republican counter-proposal now being written, represents the GOP in the continuing court battles on redistricting.

He said Tuesday that the Democratic advisory group,

Viet Truce Talk Spreads As U.S. Sends New Force

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Truce talk pervaded the Vietnamese theater of war tonight, but the United States underscored its commitment to South Viet Nam by airlifting another brigade of U.S. troops into the jungle conflict.

The moratorium in the U.S. air war on North Viet Nam went into its sixth day, but the halt in the air attack still drew no public peace feeler from Hanoi.

Report New Lull Plan

The South Vietnamese government was reported ready to join the Viet Cong in proclaiming a cease-fire for the Vietnamese New Year next month. The United States entertained some doubts but was expected to concur in the truce.

Neither Washington nor Saigon saw the Communist offer of a truce on Tet, the lunar New Year festival Jan. 20-23, as a significant breakthrough toward peace. In the long guerrilla war, a military lull during the national holiday has become an annual ritual.

The airlift of some 4,000 jungle fighters from Hawaii to the central highlands base of Pleiku, 240 miles north of Saigon, raises the total American force in Viet Nam to 175,000 men.

The 3rd Brigade of the U.S. Army's 25th "Tropic Lightning" Division was arriving by C-141 and C-130 transports to join the American challenge to six or seven North Vietnamese regiments reported operating in the mountains. The brigade is taking over an area through which Communist supplies are believed coming from North Viet Nam.

Served Here Before

Some of the men served as volunteers in Viet Nam before as machine gunners on helicopters. The division won its nickname and lightning armpatch for its jungle fight against the Japanese in the Solomon Islands in 1943.

U.S. officials did not say whether the rest of the division would be moved in from Hawaii.

Twenty-one Americans were killed in combat last week compared with 10 in the previous Sunday - to - Saturday reporting period, a U.S. spokesman announced. There were 95 Americans wounded.

Government casualties were listed as 227 dead, 499 wounded and 104 either wounded or captured, while the Communist toll was given as 937 killed and 137 wounded or captured.

South Air War Continues

Despite the air lull in the North, the air war in the South continued unabated.

U.S. Air Force B-52s from Guam hit two suspected Viet Cong concentrations in Quang Tri Province, 400 miles north of Saigon. The raid Tuesday night ended speculation that the big bombers, which had stayed

Taylor Succumbs, Was Publisher of Ellenville Paper

The publisher of an Ulster County weekly newspaper, Roswell Baxter Taylor, 80, of Ellenville, died Tuesday at Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

He had been publisher of the 117-year-old Ellenville Journal for 40 years. He was the grandson of Sylvester Maxwell Taylor who was editor of the paper from 1857 to 1919.

Born in Ellenville Oct. 16, 1885, the son of Charles Fremont and Harriet Bailey Taylor, he had been a lifelong resident of that community.

Surviving are five sisters and a brother, Mrs. Edward (Lorraine) Waite Miller of Napanoch, Mrs. Frank H. (Virginia) Sprague of Ellenville, Mrs. William W. (Pauline) Pearson of Rahway, N. J., Edwin James Taylor of New York City, Mrs. Haley (Lyle) McClure of Brantford, Mich., Mrs. Max A. (Sally) Weber of Clinton.

away from South Viet Nam for four days, had joined the air moratorium.

There was also no relief for the Reds from tactical air strikes in the South. U.S. carrier planes and South Vietnamese splashed Viet Cong positions in Long An Province to help small government positions 25 miles southwest of Saigon.

U.S. and Vietnamese air force planes flew 280 combat sorties against Viet Cong river shipping, encampments, storage and supply areas, and dropped 276 tons of bombs.

Strike pilots reported destroying 388 buildings, damaging 365 others and sinking nine sampans.

Navy planes from the carriers Ticonderoga, Hancock and Enterprise flew 131 sorties and claimed 80 structures destroyed, one automatic weapons site knocked out and two damaged.

The Viet Cong made widely scattered attacks.

They blew three bridges in the Quang Ngai area, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, and overran a Vietnamese district capital headquarters at Minh Long, 15 miles southwest of Quang Ngai City. Air observation reported the capital post deserted but some outposts still fighting it out. Tactical planes flew 34 sorties against the attackers up to mid-afternoon.

A militia squad was badly hurt in Vinh Long Province, 80 miles southwest of Saigon, when the Viet Cong overran its outpost.

The National Liberation broadcast the Viet Cong's Tet truce offer Tuesday night, saying the guerrillas had "decided to stop attacking the puppet armed forces and government" from 11:01 p.m. Jan. 19 to 11 p.m. Jan. 23, Saigon time.

The broadcast said the cease-fire would allow "the military men and personnel of the Average Child Drinks At 14 Years of Age

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP) — "Despite all the laws, the average child today drinks at age 14," a spokesman for the American Medical Association says.

For that reason, arguments on changing New York State's legal drinking age from 18 to 21 years are "slightly ridiculous," Dr. Marvin A. Block of Buffalo, chairman of the association's Committee on Alcoholism, said Tuesday.

In many U.S. suburbs, 85 per cent of the children drink at 14 years of age, he added. About 75 per cent of that number drink with their parents' permission, Block said.

The fact that children drink so early makes a "farce" of legal age statutes because "despite all law, they're drinking anyway."

Block addressed the ninth annual Ontario Youth Conference on Alcohol Problems at the Park Motor Hotel here.

Brydges Names Pomeroy to Post On Conservation

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Sen. Earl W. Brydges, who will serve as Republican majority leader in the 1966 legislative session, today named Sen. Nathan Pomeroy, R-Glens Falls, as chairman of the Committee on Towns and Counties.

Brydges also appointed these chairmen:

—Sen. R. Watson Pomeroy, R-Wassaic, Committee on Conservation.

—Sen. — elect William E. Adams, R-Kenmore, Committee on Social Services.

—Sen. — elect John D. Calandra, R-Bronx, Committee on General Laws.

The Towns and Counties committee formerly was the Committee on Internal Affairs and the Social Services Committee was the Committee on Public Relief and Welfare.

New York Holds $4 Million for Federal Demand

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — During the administration of President Andrew Jackson, the federal government loaned New York State $4 million.

Now 127 years later, the state wants to know if it can keep the money.

State Comptroller Arthur Levitt told Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., in a letter Tuesday that Congress should decide whether to demand repayment or release the state from any obligation to repay the money.

In 1836, Congress voted to distribute a federal surplus of $28 million among the states as loans, payable on demand.

Levitt said that only New York and two or three other states had kept the funds intact in the event of such a demand.

Then for Christmas, the family gave him the tuba. A family member reported that Goldwater also played "Silent Night" on the tuba.

Rocky to Offer Plan to Check Traffic Slaughter

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller said today he would present a six-point highway safety program, designed to check "the bloody slaughter of traffic accidents," to the 1966 legislative session.

Noting that more than 2,300 persons were killed in traffic mishaps this year, he said he would ask the Legislature to pass bills that would:

—Authorize the courts to require drivers convicted of moving violations to attend driver safety courses.

—Suspend for 30 days the driver's license of any person convicted of speeding more than 20 miles an hour above the limit, if the speed limit is at least 50.

—Improve the enforcement of orders suspending or revoking licenses and registrations.

—Remove the present exemption for cities of more than 175,000 population from use of the Uniform Traffic Summons and Complaint form.

—Require that all new cars be inspected and certified before sale.

—Require that traffic convictions in neighboring states and bail forfeitures for moving violations be included in the New York's point system for recording drivers' violations.

Mailman Happy To Be Back on Sidewalk Beat

ROUSES POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Stanley Monette was back on the sidewalk today and—for the first time in 36 years—was content to face dogs who don't like postmen and the vagaries of weather.

After years of dreaming about a desk job, Monette moved indoors last week to the position of assistant postmaster in his community on the Canadian border.

After three days, however, he said he "couldn't stand being cooped up" and was ready "to climb the walls."

Tuesday, the 56-year-old mailman hefted his pouch while standing on a snowy sidewalk and said, "I feel great . . . the best I've felt in a long time."

Juveniles Charged By Ellenville SP

Three juveniles were charged with third degree burglary on Tuesday, after Ellenville State Police investigated separate burglary reports.

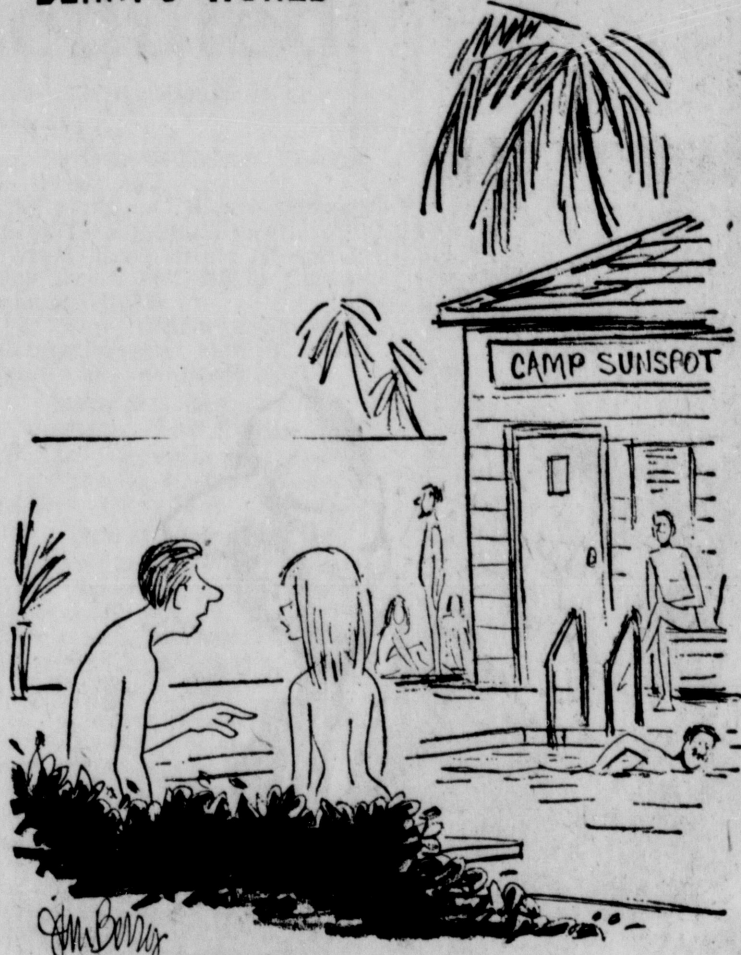

Two of the boys, 14 and 15, were accused of entering the Elks Club at Napanoch on Nov. 4, but nothing of value was reported taken at the time.

The third boy was accused of burglarizing the home of George Geiselhart, Napanoch, on Christmas Day and taking Christmas gifts including a radio, wrist watch and other personal items.

Troopers turned the three boys over to their parents and referred the cases to Family Court for investigation.

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP)—Government ministers have laid up their American cars for smaller models. U. S. Ambassador Robert Good and other diplomats have bought bicycles. Work schedules have been altered to end lunch trips home.

"Is your journey really necessary?" That's the watchword in Zambia as gasoline rationing limits motorists to one gallon a week.

Zambia normally gets its petroleum supplies from Rhodesia, its neighbor to the south. When Britain embargoed oil shipments to that rebellious central African territory, Rhodesia's white government cut off supplies to Zambia to conserve its own stocks.

Communication is not helped by Lusaka's temperamental telephone system which now is overworked more than ever as the public tries to do more business over it. But people seem prepared to wait for nearly 30 minutes to complete local calls rather than waste their precious gasoline.

Emergency supply measures have ensured that the majority of industrial users have sufficient supplies. An increase in the general ration is expected within three months, as a fuel lift by plane and tanker trucks increases the supply to about 76,000 gallons a day.

That is just over half Zambia's needs, and it will be supplied without U. S. help. There is hope that the United States will make up the balance with a large fleet of planes.

May Not End Session

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The prospect of Gov. Scranton ending the 1965 session of the General Assembly, appeared diminished today with a report that Senate Republicans are reluctant to ask him to invoke his executive power.

One authoritative Republican said the GOP caucus has no intention at this point of requesting Scranton to enter the legislative battle over adjournment.

The constitution empowers the governor to adjourn a session for no more than four months when there is a difference between the two chambers over a quitting date.

Youth Slain Accidentally

HARFORD MILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Andrew Baker, 17, of Harford Mills, was shot to death Tuesday when a 12-year-old boy accidentally fired Baker's shotgun. State Police said the boy was admiring Baker's weapon when it discharged. The blast struck Baker in the shoulder at close range.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker.

Expect 440 Road Deaths On Weekend

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council estimated today that between 360 and 440 persons could be killed in traffic accidents during the three-day New Year's weekend.

The holiday period begins at 6 p.m. Thursday and ends at midnight Sunday. The period actually covers 78 hours.

The council said some 360 persons would be expected to die in traffic accidents this weekend if it was not a holiday. Traffic accidents during the three-day year-end period last year killed 474 persons, the highest toll on record for that holiday.

A record 720 persons were killed in last week's three-day Christmas observance, the highest number recorded for any holiday period since record-keeping began.

10 Die in Mexico Crash

ORIZABA, Mexico (AP)—Ten passengers were killed and 33 injured when a bus going from Mexico City to Villahermosa skidded off the road and plunged into a 1,000-foot ravine Tuesday.

The cause of the accident was not known. All the passengers were believed to be Mexicans.

Repeal Is Asked Of Law Putting Levitt on Board

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller had on his desk today a recommendation that State Comptroller Arthur Levitt no longer be required to sit on the board of the New York State Teachers Retirement System.

State Insurance Supt. Henry R. Stern proposed Tuesday repeal of the provision of state law requiring the comptroller, whose department audits state accounts, to be a board member.

Stern said that Levitt now held "contradictory responsibilities" and that the change would "permit the comptroller to fulfill his essential auditing function" unhampered by other commitments.

Stern's report developed from an investigation ordered by the Republican governor.

Some aspects of the retirement system—with assets listed as $1.29 billion in 1964—have been under fire in recent years. The superintendent recommended the appointment of a full-time counsel to the system.

Discuss Air Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP)—American and Canadian officials are discussing the problem of air pollution along the common border and may refer the problem to the International Joint Commission.

Officials of the two governments said Tuesday that Canada had proposed a joint study of industrial air pollution in various border areas.

The international body, consisting of three Americans and three Canadians, prescribed measures in the 1950s that curbed air pollution caused by shipping in the Great Lakes.

which has 129,000 members and 16,000 pensioners.

He said that Charles A. Brind Jr., counsel to the State Education Department, now is part-time legal adviser.

Stern's report further noted that Brind's son, David, of Geneva, has received $68,845 in legal fees for representing the system on mortgage loans.

Stern commented that "the wisdom of retaining present counsel's son as an attorney representing the board at mortgage closings is highly questionable."

In other recommendations, he suggested that two members be added to the nine-member board and that new appointees be selected for their knowledge of investment practices.

YEAR OF THE PROTEST

We may remember this as the year of the protest.

Not that there hasn't been plenty of it in previous years—sit-ins, freedom marches, demonstrations, beat poetry and the like—and not that there won't be more of it in the future.

But it was in 1965 that discontent with the way things are in this country and the world, heretofore rumbling distantly like underground streams, suddenly burst into the open and spilled into a number of channels.

The urge to protest, to change, to correct, to tear down and build up anew has infected people of all ages. If it isn't concerned with civil rights, then it's the Viet Nam war. If it isn't that, then it's academic freedom.

Usually it is all of these, plus a general attack on society's conventions and beliefs to boot, and some of the same people are swimming in all of the currents at once.

We became aware in 1965, for instance, that rock 'n' roll had evolved into "folk-rock," with message lyrics bewailing the sickness and futility of the modern world and prophesying the doom that await it.

Three Americans burned themselves to death to protest man's inhumanity to man in Viet Nam. Others burned their draft cards.

In a Cleveland high school, some teenagers took to wearing black armbands to mourn the dead on both sides of an undeclared war.

Study groups calling themselves "free universities" sprang up to challenge the allegedly stultifying environments and curricula of our traditional schools. Subjects ranged from Communist China today to drugs as a means of personality enhancement to forging a new sexual morality.

A new school of theologians shocked the lay public by proclaiming that "God is dead" and called for reassessment of man's spiritual condition and needs in the 20th century.

Some of this revolt against custom and the status quo is silly and self-indicting, like ragged beards and dirty clothes. Some of it may even be dangerous, like pep pills and hallucinatory drugs. But a lot of it is healthy and could work profound changes in life.

The trouble is that few of us—activists and onlookers alike—are always wise enough to tell which is which.

The various streams of protest have not yet merged into a general flood knocking out the underpinnings of "the establishment"—a handily vague term for the prevailing political-religious-ethical-cultural ideas and leaders. It is unlikely that they will.

But if this surging activism has any real strength and depth, it cannot but help to wash away an accumulation of prejudices and injustices, preconceptions and complacencies that clogs society, leaving what remains better and cleaner.

The U.S. may ship 400 million bushels of wheat to relieve India's starvation in the year ahead. Can anyone think of a more satisfying way to get rid of the surplus?

AN INSTANT TO DECIDE

It was the cool, split-second analysis by Gemini-6 command pilot Walter M. Schirra, says Aviation Week and Space Technology, that saved his capsule—and uncounted megabucks of the taxpayers' money—when its Titan booster engines unexpectedly shut down at the moment of launch on December 12.

Two factors, says the magazine, could have led a less-experienced pilot to fire the craft's ejection seat system, thus wiping out any chance for a second try at a mid-orbit rendezvous with Gemini-7.

One was that the event timer, which records elapsed flight time on the instrument panel in front of the astronauts, began running, indicating that lift-off had occurred.

The other was that the engine ignition lights remained lighted. They are supposed to go off when the engines have achieved

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

THE DISHONESTY OF HO CHI MINH

The other day, in an undocumented remark tucked in parenthetically toward the end of a column, I said that North Viet Nam's Ho Chi Minh had broken the terms of the 1954 Geneva Agreements which, supposedly, had settled the disposition of the old French territories of Indochina. As might have been foreseen, some of my friendly enemies on the Left (friendly enough to speak to me, at any rate) rose to dispute the statement. They want to know how I can prove it.

I'll have to prove it by citing an honest scholar for my authority. Dr. Frank Trager, who teaches at New York University when he is not traveling and writing books about Marxism in Southeast Asia. Frank Trager has made Viet Nam his specialty. He thinks it would be an act of folly to go back to the Geneva Agreements of 1954 for the simple reason that they are combed with booby-traps that were made to order for exploitation by the Communists.

The Geneva Agreements, says Dr. Trager, provided for an exchange of partisans in the two Viet Nams. North and South. Obeying both the letter and the spirit of the Agreements, some 800,000 Vietnamese left North Viet Nam after 1954 and moved south of the 17th parallel. The traffic in the other direction was much smaller: only 100,000 veterans and supporters of the Communist-trained Viet Minh moved to the north. With their usual disingenuousness, the Communists left many "sleepers" south of the 17th parallel, to rise again at North Viet Nam's behest to become the so-called "army of liberation." It wasn't long before Ho Chi Minh was coming publicly to the support of this new and falsely named "patriotic front," sending it supplies and encouraging it in its campaign of murder and terror. He did this in a way that directly repudiated his duty to abide by the Geneva Agreements, which he, unlike the United States, had promised to honor. The South Vietnamese government offered tangible proof of Ho Chi Minh's direct contributions to the "army of liberation"; hence the validity of the name of the trail that goes from North Viet Nam through Laos into the South Viet Nam mountains and jungles, which isn't called the Ho Chi Minh Trail for nothing. But the International Control Commission set up to police the Geneva Agreements did not act on the evidence.

Dr. Trager points out that the South Vietnamese, like the United States, did not sign the Geneva Agreements. But they had a right to demand that they would be let alone by the Communists who did sign them. Only the most innocent, of course, believed that Ho Chi Minh, a Marxist revolutionary from away back, would honor his own word and limit his campaign to unify North and South Viet Nam to legal methods. Incidentally, no honest person would expect election could have been held in either North or South Viet Nam after 1954. North of the 17th parallel, people would not have been allowed to register a non-Marxist vote at the polls. And south of the parallel the terrorists of the "army of liberation" would have coerced the population into voting Communist in the back country.

Admittedly, this columnist was not an on-the-spot observer of Ho Chi Minh's violations of the Geneva Agreements in the years after 1954. But I have known Dr. Trager since the Nineteen Thirties, and his character is transparently plain. He is a scholar and his passion is truth. He visited South Viet Nam in the years after 1956, touring the back country. In many areas he journeyed under armed protection because, as he has said in several bits of writing, the jeep in which he was traveling was too close to "army of liberation" fire. If my Leftist readers want documentation, they should read Dr. Trager's many articles in publication such as "Orbis," "Viet Nam Perspectives," and "The Intercollegiate Review."

No journalist can be everywhere. A columnist has to learn how to find sources that are trustworthy. Dr. Trager is such a source. (Copyright, 1965, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

New Methods Hold Great Promise for Pain Relief

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of the most troublesome problems in medical practice is pain—not the pain of a tension headache but the unbearable pain of tic douloureux and inoperable cancer.

In the past, morphine or related drugs were given, sometimes as often as every two hours around the clock. This inevitably led to addiction. The only alternative is to destroy the sensory nerves involved or the pain center in the brain. Destroying the sensory nerves has the disadvantage that the patient can no longer distinguish between hot and cold or feel a light touch or a pinprick in the area supplied by the nerve. And even the simplest form of brain surgery for the relief of pain has until recently been a major operation.

Lysergic acid dimethylamide (LSD) has been tried. Although a minute dose may relieve the pain for as long as 32 hours in contrast to only two hours with morphine, it causes temporary personality changes and most persons refuse a second dose.

Injections of alcohol, phenol or chloroform into the sheath surrounding the spinal cord have been used with some success, but more recently methods that show even greater promise have been devised.

Dr. John F. Mullan and his associates at the University of Chicago used a fluoroscope to guide a tiny needlelike tube to the spinal cord in the desired predetermined location.

The tube contains a mixture of radioactive strontium and yttrium. When left in place for 15 to 40 minutes the radiations kill the painful fibers and give relief for from one day to several weeks. No period of convalescence is required to recover from such an operation.

The same doctors have devised another technique. They insert an electric needle into the spinal cord and apply gentle electric impulses which kill the painful nerves without damaging the others in the area. This is done under a local anesthetic with the patient fully conscious.

Following this operation the patient can still feel the difference between hot and cold. The pain is relieved within 10 minutes and the relief lasts for about six months. When it returns, the operation can be done again.

Other measures for pain relief will be described in the next column.

77 per cent of their full 439,000-pound thrust.

Put together, these indications could have been interpreted to mean that the Titan had lifted off the pad but that it had insufficient thrust to fly—that it was about to fall back to the ground and probably explode. At this point, an inexperienced or panicky pilot might reasonably have pulled the "D" ring between his legs and fired the escape mechanism.

Schirra, however, who flew six orbits in a Mercury capsule on October 3, 1962, felt no physical cues that lift-off had taken place. He also suspected that the event timer had started too soon.

So he elected to sit tight and do nothing, which, as analysis later showed, was exactly the right thing to do.

"It Just Left a Little Nick!"

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Barry Goldwater's Free Society Association, actively led by his friend Denison Kitchel, is struggling with an old problem—how to shake off the negative image which handicaps conservative doctrine.

The dilemma is complicated by the fact that a considerable proportion of the leaders among the Republican party's traditional conservatives view "Goldwater conservatism" as excessively rigid and hence foreign to the political process, with its stress on compromise.

Kitchel appears to regard this view as incomprehensible. He sees "responsible conservatism" as all of a piece, and as fully understanding of the flexibilities of politics.

He says the Free Association accepts the idea that a broad left-right political spectrum exists, and that the Republican party itself is inevitably stretched across the span on varying liberal to conservative attitudes.

WHAT FSA IS REALLY UP TO, adds Kitchel, is not an attempt to make the GOP into a homogeneous "party of principle" according to Goldwaterite notions. It is, he insists, an effort to create a new "climate of thought" whose effect would be to move the whole national spectrum toward the right.

This is the reason the FSA avows nonpartisanship and declares it will have no part of active campaign politics. It asserts its function to be largely informational.

Kitchel is not the first to argue that the new Goldwater conservatism is just as flexible, just as candid, as liberal realities, as the old. The conservative candidate for New York City mayor, William F. Buckley Jr., said this autumn that most of the conservative activists he dealt with were of the nonrigid type.

Yet politicians who encounter still-loyal rank and file Goldwaterites in their daily rounds contend that rigidity of outlook continues to be their hallmark. A good many talk the language of "rule or ruin."

Admittedly the strident voices of the radical right confuse the issue, since they invoke the name of Goldwater even more freely than do his more temperate supporters.

It is they, too, who reinforce the negative image that has dogged conservatism for so long a time.

ACCORDING TO KITCHEL, a new idea of how to lick this problem has recently been born within the FSA fold.

Some in the organization are reasoning that "liberals dominate the national scene because they define the problems." The net of it, so it is argued, is that conservatives are forced into negative posture either by denying that certain problems exist or by suggesting answers which inescapably lack the bold force of the originally proposed "liberal solutions."

In this newly advanced view, then, the liberal establishment maintains its sway less by listening to the grievances of various groups than by telling them what they ought to want and how they can get it.

THE LESSON INDICATED by this thesis for constructive advocates is clear enough. They will begin to attract voting groups in significant, winning numbers when conservatives leap ahead and start defining the problems of the city, of labor, of the Negro and other minorities, of the tangled foreign front, before their liberal adversaries can get moving.

Kitchel recognizes how large an order this is for people who have spent much of the last three decades reacting negatively to the political initiatives of their aggressive opponents.

The test is in the doing, as he sees it. No cascade of scholarly conservative position papers is likely to have the necessary impact. Conservatism will get onto the positive side when it offers a big, dramatic initiative that somehow captures the country's fancy and suggests there is much more useful thinking where that came from.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

At 4 a. m. nobody smiles, Fred Benoit grinned at the night and the cold and the fat lazy snowflakes. Carmella ticked off the items she had packed, and sat comfortably in the front seat. Fred put the Dodge in gear and took a last look at his ranch house, at 54 Gamwell Avenue, in Pittsfield, Massachusetts.

"Florida," he murmured, "here we come." The 25th wedding anniversary was coming up and Fred wanted something special for his Carmella. This was it. Florida for a whole month. He had worked in the transformer plant of General Electric for a quarter of a century. So he felt he could ask a favor.

"I have a winter vacation coming," he had said. "Also another two weeks next July. Would it be all right to take the last two in December and the first two in January—sort of hook them together?" The boss didn't have to think it over. Alfred Benoit is one of those steady day-in-and-day-out employees who gives his best all the time.

"You got it," the boss had said. Now it was 4 a. m. and Fred couldn't wait any longer. He turned down Route 20 and was on his way. He is a cautious driver. He is a cautious husband. He never expects to get that first million and, at age 49, he is happy that he owns his house and his car and has a few bucks in the bank.

Now he aspired to live a little. The Benois have no children, so they live for each other. Sometimes, when he thinks no one is listening, he calls her "Baby." He was on sentry duty on a night like this one on April 13, 1945. It was cold and dark and he stood on a black road outside Nuremberg, Germany.

The war was practically over. He heard a small plane and he dove for cover. Then it was lights out, no pain, nothing. An anti-personnel bomb had burst over him and Fred Benoit had more holes in his head than a tea strainer. Today, his head is still full of small pieces of German shrapnel. His left leg and arm are paralyzed, but he can drive and he can laugh. There is snow in his hair, but when he looks at the dark slender Carmella he feels rich.

On that cold day, he made it to Wilson, North Carolina. In the morning, the Benois stopped at a church. Then they drove further south and the long curving roads poured toward the windshield and disappeared underneath. Sometimes they talked. Sometimes they dreamed.

The second night, they stopped at Jessup, Georgia. The third night, it was Vero Beach. In the morning, they headed further south. A little after 10, they were in West Palm Beach. A police squad car pulled up beside the Dodge and a siren shrieked. Carmella glanced at her husband. "My God," she said. "What did you do now?"

Police Captain Gilbert Coerr pointed. "Pull around the corner," he yelled. Fred Benoit swallowed hard. "There goes our vacation," he said. The policeman and two civilians got out of the car. "Where are you going?" "No place in particular. What did I do?" "I'm arresting you for careful driving," the policeman said. "Follow me to headquarters."

Passive Attitude Is Decried In Red Ouster of Newsman

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—One of the reasons why relief from bondage and oppression is not being achieved in many parts of the world is that the governments of the free nations do not consistently speak out in behalf of true democracy.

Freedom of expression, for instance is one of the basic principles of self-government. Without it, autocracy and intolerance can block every form of human progress. But does the United States government use its tremendous moral force to further the concept of a free press in other countries?

Two recent episodes emphasize the strange failure of the American government to speak out in strong protest. Last September, Sam Jaffe, Moscow correspondent of the American Broadcasting Company, was ousted by the Soviet government—not for anything he had written or said but because the Communists didn't like a broadcast inside the U. S. over the ABC network by a member of its Washington staff. This week the Polish government ordered the expulsion of David Halberstam, Warsaw correspondent of the New York Times, because he told the truth about what he saw. A few years ago, A. M. Rosenthal of the New York Times was ordered to leave Poland for "delving too deeply" into Polish affairs in his writings.

These are not isolated incidents of intimidation. Foreign correspondents on duty in all Communist countries live under the threat of being thrown out if they don't write their articles in guarded phrases.

Yet the U. S. Department of State has not expressed its indignation in an emphatic way. Nor has it warned the governments concerned that the U. S. expects reciprocal treatment for its newsmen. No Soviet correspondent in this country has been expelled for anything he has written about the U. S.

The American government, by its passive attitude, conveys the idea that the matter is unimportant or that to protest loudly would be meddling in internal affairs. So only a perfunctory dissent has been registered in each case by our embassies abroad.

The U. S., on the other hand, hasn't hesitated to join Great Britain in an oil embargo on Rhodesia in response to a demand by African nations, even though the dispute is obviously internal. Indeed, embargoes are usually put into effect in areas where there is a war going on. But in Viet Nam, here hundreds of American soldiers have lost their lives, nothing is being done by our own allies to support the American military effort by cutting off trade with North Viet Nam or with Red China, which is supplying munitions to help kill Americans.

The question of what is an internal matter is not clearly defined by international law, but again and again blockades have been imposed against unfriendly countries. The U. S. has cut off trade with Cuba, where the Communists are in control.

It is difficult to see any difference between Poland and Cuba so far as trade is concerned. Both are under Communist rule. Late last year there have been many persons inside and outside Washington who have advocated relations with the U. S. with Communist-bloc countries in Europe. It is even being suggested that trade be opened with Red China because this is being carried on by other countries in the free world who consider money-making more important than crusades for the cause of democracy and freedom.

When a government—with the prestige that the U. S. has everywhere—as an exponent of democracy—shuts its eyes to flagrant violations of democratic principles, including freedom of the press, the impression is created either that materialism supersedes idealism here or that there isn't any staunch support after all for the idealism which the free world professes or preaches.

The press, radio and television are the most effective means of internal and external communication today. They are essential to the freedom of any country. If the U. S. government doesn't take a strong stand against artificial barriers to the free interchange of news between peoples throughout the world, such indifference is bound to be construed as a weakness. This gives autocratic governments a feeling that it doesn't matter to the outside world if they continue to keep tens of millions of persons in virtual slavery.

Not Old Enough

NEW DELHI (AP)—The National Committee of Archives complained state and central government confidential records "even a century old" have not been released to the archives. It recommended all records 25 years old be released to archives "irrespective of their classification."

Matter of Fact

Leonardo da Vinci, the Florentine artist and scientist, designed plans for such various inventions as flying machines, diving bells, underground canals for cities, a military chariot with revolving knives on the axles, a multiple staircase around a common core whereby individuals could descend or ascend at the same time without being seen by each other, and even an ingenious stink bomb.

LBJ Banking on Business To Eliminate Some Deficits

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson's administration is counting on U. S. industry to chop $1 billion from the nation's balance of payments deficit in 1966.

That would bring the nation's international accounts close to the balance point, said Andrew F. Brimmer, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Economic Affairs, in an address prepared for delivery to the American Finance Association.

Brimmer said that target is the reason the so-called voluntary restrictions on export of dollars for overseas investment have been clearly focused on industry.

Guidelines Limit
The 1966 "guidelines" on overseas investment limit such spending during the two-year 1965-66 period to 90 per cent of the level of investments in the three-year 1962-64 period.

Corporations also have been asked to boost exports and report quarterly on foreign transactions. The number of corporations to report quarterly will be more than 900, compared with about 500 in 1965.

Brimmer contended that the 1965 voluntary program "is likely to be a major source of the substantial improvement in the U. S. balance of payments for 1965."

That came about, he said, through increased expansion of exports and the repatriation of income earned overseas.

"On the other hand, the continued high rate of direct investment has dampened the overall improvement," Brimmer added.

Situation Attacked
Consequently, in the face of the possibility of more of the same in 1966, the guidelines were redrawn to attack the investment situation.

Brimmer said that at the time the guidelines were redrawn, there was expectation that the 1966 balance of payments would deteriorate mainly because of "the acceleration of military activity in Viet Nam and the continued high rate of direct investment abroad by U. S. corporations."

"While every effort will be made to minimize the military impact, it was evident that the focus of the 1966 balance of payments program had to be on direct investment," said Brimmer.

Francisco Madero, president of Mexico, was assassinated in 1913.

Big City Mayors To Meet Jan. 10

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The mayors of the state's six largest cities will gather in Albany Jan. 10 at the request of the Republican Senate majority leader to discuss their special problems.

Earl W. Brydges, R-Niagara Falls, said Tuesday he called the meeting to form a close working relationship with the mayors.

The conference will review the legislative programs of New York, Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Yonkers and Albany.

Accuse Former Albany Official Of Tax Failure

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—Marsh W. Breslin, former Albany County welfare commissioner, is accused of failing to file federal tax returns on income totaling $83,444 from 1959 through 1963.

The U.S. Justice Department filed the five-count information Tuesday against Breslin in U.S. District Court here.

Breslin, an attorney, became welfare commissioner in 1960 and retired recently after 27 years of state employment.

A Justice Department spokesman said Breslin would be arraigned next month in U.S. District Court, Albany.

Conviction for willful failure to file income tax returns—a misdemeanor—carries a maximum penalty of one year in prison and a $10,000 fine on each count.

Breslin lives at 581 Morris St., Albany.

Francisco Madero, president of Mexico, was assassinated in 1913.

Silent on Peace Probing

President Johnson Becomes Sphinx on Viet Nam Topic

By FRANK CORMIER
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, a confirmed talker and normally an expansive host at Christmas time, has become the sphinx of the Federations this year.

In marked contrast to past performance, Johnson has sidestepped repeated opportunities to rub shoulders with the sizable press contingent here and to give them the benefit of his thinking.

Were Invited

Last year, for example, newsmen were invited to the LBJ Ranch three days out of four during the Christmas weekend for long, informal conversations with the President punctuated only by the distribution of unspiced eggnog.

Reporters traveled to the ranch area three days out of four this past weekend, too — once when the First Family was serenaded with Christmas carols at Johnson City and twice for church services. On none of these occasions, however, did Johnson invite the press corps to his home.

The usually loquacious chief executive limited himself to fleeting exchanges of "Hello" and "Merry Christmas" in greeting the newsmen who turned out.

This was so unlike the man that, quite naturally, speculation about the motives for his silence followed.

Most observers are agreed that Viet Nam has been responsible for the emergence of the now taciturn Johnson.

There have been guarded hints from some sources that the United States, in probing toward possible avenues for a peaceful settlement of the war, is involved in matters of such delicacy that any presidential statement would be ill-advised.

Thus there was no acknowledgment from the White House when a Christmas cease-fire was announced. There was only silence. And Johnson's acting press secretary, Joseph Laitin, took pains to claim the whole affair was outside the ken of the chief executive — that such matters were being handled in Saigon.

Both Silent

Although the cease-fire soon was fractured, American bombers did not return to the skies over North Viet Nam. Laitin, asked about this, again said it was a matter to be dealt with in Saigon.

One Texas newspaper, the Houston Post, summarized the situation in a banner headline: "Bombs Silent; White House, Too."

If no one at the White House was talking publicly, one source close to Johnson offered a possible explanation for the President's own silence: "He is silent because he is listening."

Presumably Johnson has been listening for any tremor of reaction from Communist capitals to what obviously has become a new American peace feeler.

In the past 36 hours, the total White House claspdown on any word involving Viet Nam has begun to crack.

Received Pope's Message

First came a disclosure that Johnson had received an indirect message from Pope Paul VI expressing pleasure at the Christmas cease-fire. Then it was announced that Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara had been discussing Viet Nam, the cease-fire and related matters during lengthy meetings at the LBJ Ranch.

If the President believes silence is golden in the current situation, it is apparent he has reached the point where he wants to emphasize he is in touch with the situation.

But, then, no one ever seriously believed he had cut himself off from the march of events — silence or no silence.

James Marlow is on vacation.

Several Counties By Vote Mandate Reapportionment

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Erie County has been added to a list of counties in the state who have been urged by their residents in referendums and court suits to come up with a reapportionment plan.

The suits have been prompted by the U.S. Supreme Court's recent "one man, one vote" ruling.

Filed Tuesday

A civil suit filed Tuesday in Supreme Court here demands that the Erie County Board of Supervisors agree upon a reapportionment plan on or before March 8.

The taxpayers' suit also asked that a special election be held for a new Board of Supervisors in the general election in November, 1966.

Each of the 54 members of the present board has one vote despite the fact that some members represent geographical areas containing a varying number of persons, the suit charges.

Taxpayers and voters are deprived the equal protection of the laws in violation of both the state and U.S. Constitutions under, such a voting arrangement, the suit contends.

Initiated by Taxpayers

The suit was initiated by J. Barrie Graham of Hamburg and Samuel Goldman of the Town of Tonawanda, who identified themselves in the court action as "taxpayers and voters."

Norman A. Stiller, county attorney, said he will examine the complaint and confer with the board members.

A reapportionment committee already formed by the board, has considered alternate plans for "weighted voting" and for redistricting the count on a population basis.

However, members have been unable to agree on any one recommendation.

In Onondaga County, the Board of Supervisors has been forced through a taxpayers' suit to make a decision on reapportionment by July 1.

In Monroe County, a new county charter, approved in a referendum earlier this year, provides for the creation of a 29-member legislative unit in newly drawn districts to replace the old 43-member board.

127 Years Later—State Would Like To Keep $4 Million

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — During the administration of President Andrew Jackson, the federal government loaned New York State $4 million.

Now, 127 years later, the state wants to know if it can keep the money.
State Comptroller Arthur Levitt told Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., in a letter Tuesday that Congress should decide whether to demand repayment or release the state from any obligation to repay.

In 1836, Congress voted to distribute a federal surplus of $28 million among the states as loans, payable on demand.

Levitt said that only New York and two or three other states had kept the funds intact in the event of such a demand.

Hold Dutchess Driver On Drunk Charge

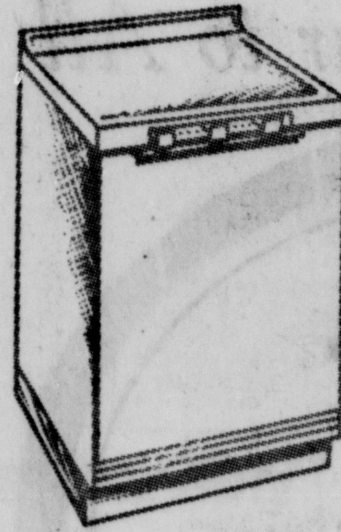

Highland State Police early today arrested William Kane, 19, of 129 South Cherry Street, Poughkeepsie on a charge of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Trooper Brian O'Connor said Kane was picked up at the west approach to the Mid-Hudson Bridge by Troopers Robert Whalen and Thomas Devine at about 1:15 a. m. Kane, according to troopers, submitted to a blood test at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, and later was held in $200 bail for hearing at a later date before Justice of the Peace Allen Dargie, Town of Esopus.

An experimental paper house could be assembled without tools or need of a foundation, and was large enough to accommodate four people, was guaranteed to stand a year in any climate, reports the American Paper Institute. It stood for seven years.

Scientists Conducting Special Airborne Studies

Spying Eye Detects Disease Fast; Pries Into Earth's Deep Secrets

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Two miles high, the airplane raced over a field of wheat. Looking down, a special spying eye detected the beginning of a serious crop disease, two weeks sooner than a human expert could have spotted the trouble on the ground. Steps to control the disease were taken that much earlier.

This is one example of a new, expanding kind of spying to pry out valuable earth secrets — how crops and forests are faring, where hidden minerals or oil may lie, to fight fires, to find clues to coming changes in climate and weather, to learn what man by his actions is doing to his own planet.

Earth scientists call this remote sensing of the environment. It is aided now by a whole family of new sensing devices developed largely for military uses and now being taken off the secret list.

The spying eye over the wheat field was an infra-red device which detects heat waves. A darker image from part of the field marked the beginning of block stem rust disease.

Dr. Robert N. Colwell, professor of forestry at the University of California, cited this instance of helpful spying today to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Combined use of infra-red and ultraviolet devices, radar, regular and color photography, and other means, is capable of telling one kind of vegetation from another, how healthy the vegetation is, and even why it is becoming sick, Dr. Colwell said.

Can Predict Yield

The devices can pick up information to help "predict weeks, months or years in advance what a yield will be" in crops, or orchards or timberland, he said.

Devices that count gamma rays — a form of X ray — emanating from uranium and other elements in rocks are proving helpful in studying geologic formations and compositions of soils, said Dr. Jack Van Lopik of Texas Instruments Inc., Dallas, Tex.

Dr. John Place of the Office of Naval Research, Washington, D.C., told of studies, assisted by the Navy, by University of Wisconsin scientists using special airborne devices to locate lakes in northern Canada that are the first to thaw or the first to freeze.

He said this can help in determining the "cold pole" of the North American continent, with significance in predicting weather and perhaps climatic changes.

Scientists Learning

Scientists now are learning how best to use the keen new eyes and to interpret the findings, said Dr. Charles E. Olson Jr., of the University of Michigan.

Infra-red and other kinds of peering can even spot differences in cultivation practices, he said.

An infra-red eye found the difference between two stands of corn, of exactly the same variety, fertilized the same way, in Minnesota. One had a darker tone.

The reason turned out to be that that field earlier had been planted to Alfalfa for three years while the other had been kept in corn for five years. The darker field contained more nitrogen and more moisture with deeper roots reflecting more heat, Dr. Olson said.

Vast areas of land could be surveyed to pinpoint better land practices to increase food yields for a hungry world, he said.

Silliest Hand of '65 Claimed

By JACOBY & SON
1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Father starts today's discussion by asking Jim: "You played a lot of duplicate this year. What was your silliest hand?"

Jim: "I have one that is really outstanding. I am not sure about the reason for my two-club bid but is certainly worked out."

Oswald: "Just looking at your opponent's bidding, I would say that hand really qualifies as one of the silliest on record. West had enough high cards for a double but you should not make a takeout double of a heart bid with a void spade suit. Then East's failure to double one spade or to bid some number of own planet, and what is happening to it "in detail and in the turmoil" taking place on its surface, said Dr. James Latham, professor of geography at Florida Atlantic University, Boca Raton, Fla.

clubs is almost beyond belief. How many tricks did you go down?"

Jim: "The play is incredible. I wasn't set. I made two overtricks. I won the heart lead in dummy and played a spade. East rose with the ace and West discarded the nine of diamonds. East led the jack of diamonds. I covered with the queen, whereupon West took his ace and played ace and a small heart. drew trumps and claimed the rest of the tricks."

Oswald: "Your two-club psychic certainly paid off but I hope its success won't cause you to try more psychics."

Jim: "It won't. I still have not told you the really silly feature of the hand. Normal defense would hold me to four heart tricks and one diamond trick. Therefore East and West slopped five tricks in the play. We scored plus 670 instead of minus, but it didn't make a bit of difference in our match point score. Every other East-West pair played and made a club game or slam so that minus 500 would have been the same top that plus 670 was."

5 Meetings Set To Study Heart Observation Units

ALBANY—Intensive observation units for heart attack patients will be discussed at a series of five meetings throughout the State in January. Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, State Health Commissioner, announced today.

The meetings will be at 9:20 a. m., Jan. 11, in St. Vincent's Hospital, New York City; 10 a. m., Jan. 13, in St. Luke's Memorial Hospital, Utica; 10:30 a. m., Jan. 20, in the Queensbury Inn, Glens Falls, for Glens Falls Hospital; 10 a. m., Jan. 21, at Buffalo General Hospital, and at 10 a. m., Jan. 25, in Vassar Brothers Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

The sessions are co-sponsored by the State Health Department and the Hospital Association of New York State.

Intensive observation units, a concept developed in this decade, are treatment centers for persons with recent myocardial infarctions. Typically, the patient is placed under 24-hour-a-day observation for about three to seven days following heart attack. An oscilloscope and various automatic alarm systems connected to the heart and blood vessels are used to monitor his condition. The procedure is used to detect disturbances of heart rhythm which could lead to sudden death if not discovered and treated promptly.

Each hospital has been invited to send a doctor, a nurse and the administrator who is to be involved in the use of such units in smaller hospitals.

A similar series of meetings was held earlier this year for larger hospitals with 300 or more beds. Persons who attended them indicated a strong interest in developing such units

Saltonstall Is Retiring, With Senate 21 Years

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., announced his retirement today, bringing to a close 45 years in public office, including 21 years in the U.S. Senate.

Saltonstall, 73, said he is retiring at the end of his term in January. He said he reached the decision after "painstaking thought" and after discussing it with his family and friends.

Saltonstall has held elective public office almost continuously since 1920.

His retirement will touch off a wild scramble for his seat, both among members of his own party who couldn't hope to oust him in a GOP primary, and among Democrats who time after time have seen him tumble their vote-getting champions.

Chief among the Republican potentialists are State Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke, first Negro ever to win statewide office in Massachusetts, and one of the most powerful vote getters in the state; and Gov. John A. Volpe, now in his second term.

On the Democratic side Boston's Mayor John F. Collins is regarded as a candidate, and former Gov. Endicott Peabody has said he plans to run for either senator or governor next November. Also a possibility is former Gov. Foster Furcolo, who was defeated by Saltonstall in 1954, and who was eliminated in the primary in a second try for the Senate in 1960.

Vetoes Milk Bill

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton vetoed a bill Tuesday that would have discouraged Pennsylvania milk dealers from buying out-of-state milk for resale in the Commonwealth.

The bill would have required dealers and handlers who purchase milk for resale in Pennsylvania at prices lower than those set by the Milk Control Commission, to pay the difference to the commission.

The governor said that the bill would go against the U.S. Constitution. He said it would place a burden on interstate commerce.

Scranton added that the bill would interfere with Congress' power to regulate interstate commerce, a power reserved to Congress in the Constitution.

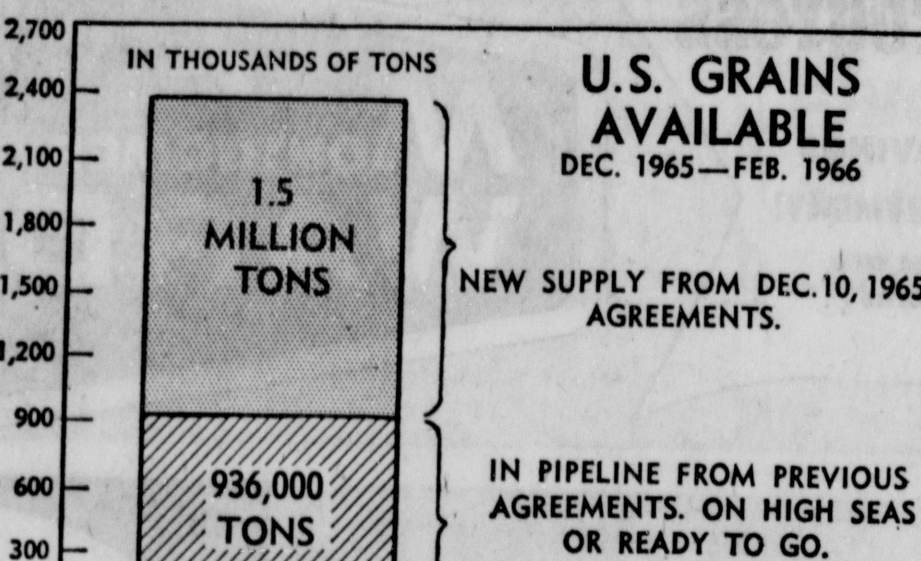

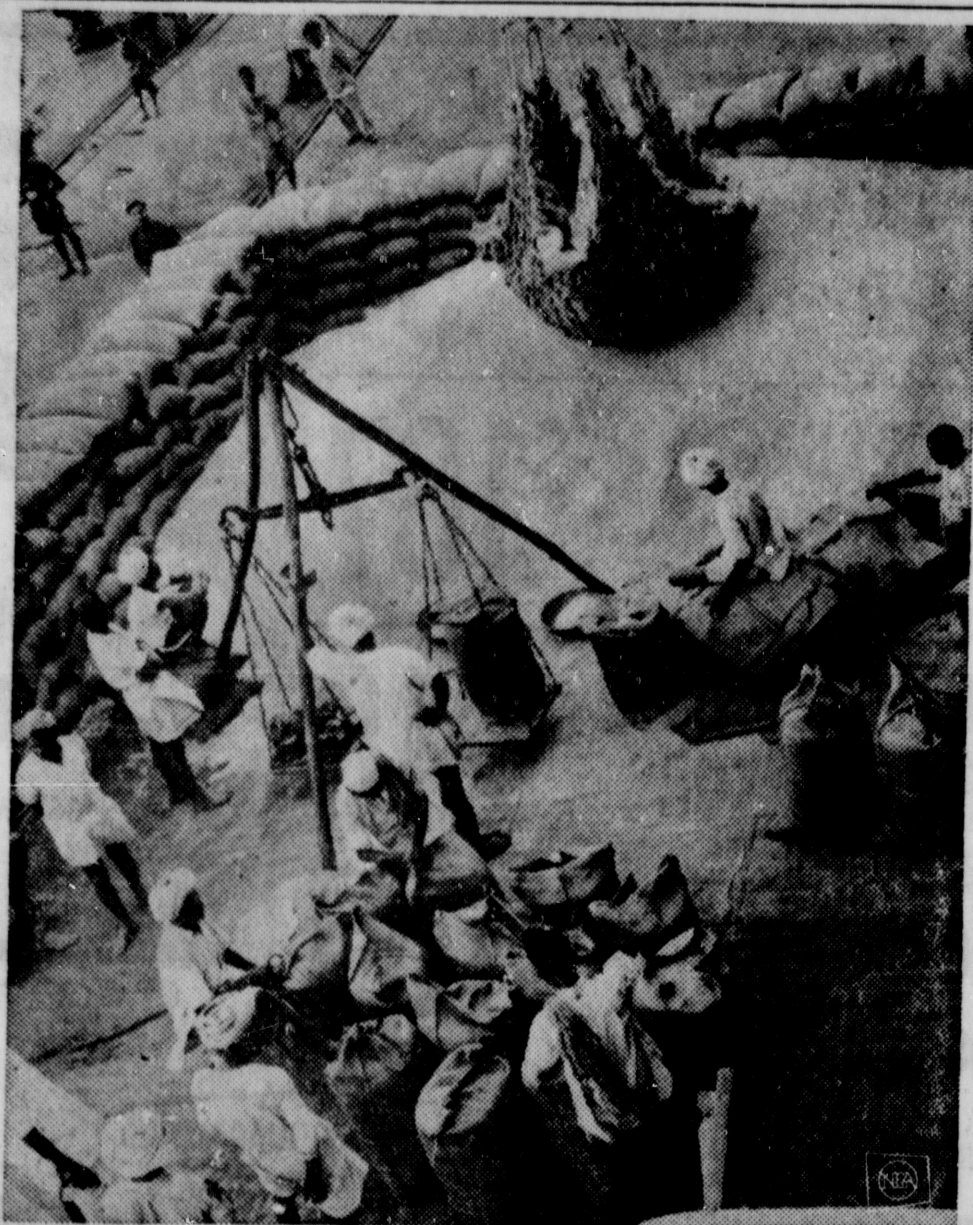

ICC Issues Denial

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission issued a formal denial today that it has approved the Pennsylvania-New York Central railroad merger.

Referring to a Wall Street Journal story which said the newspaper had learned that the merger had been approved, the ICC said:

"The statement that the commission has approved the Penn-Central merger is contrary to fact."

"The application for merger of the two railroads, and related issues, is pending before the commission and final action has not been taken."

As an immediate measure, the United States is taking 1.5 million tons of grain from its own reserves to almost triple immediate deliveries.

Travelers Could Run Into Wet Stuff

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Holiday travelers are likely to encounter rain or snow in New York State Friday and Sunday, the Weather Bureau said today.

New Year's Day and Sunday are expected to be generally mild, but Friday and Monday will be somewhat cooler.

The bureau predicted average daytime temperatures of 35 to 45 and nighttime lows of 25 to 35.

Generally cloudy skies prevailed today and overnight temperatures ranged mostly in the 20s and 30s.

Fanfani Rejects Moro Request He Reconsider Move

ROME (AP) — Amintore Fanfani rejected today a request by Premier Aldo Moro that he withdraw his resignation as foreign minister.

Fanfani submitted his resignation Tuesday in a dramatic move in which he repudiated any connection with anti-American remarks reportedly made by his friend, Giorgio La Pira.

In the resignation Fanfani also denied any part in what he called the "imprudent initiative" of his wife in giving a party at his home during which La Pira, controversial former mayor of Florence, reportedly made his statements.

No Hanoi Response

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington hopes the lull in the bombing of North Vietnam targets will produce a peace bid from Hanoi, but U.S. diplomatic sources said today they know of no response yet.

At the same time, as the bombing suspension neared the five-day mark, the Washington informants tended to rate the announced trip of a high-ranking Russian to Hanoi as having little immediate bearing on the fighting.

Rather, they speculated that with Communist party leader Alexander Shelepin's forthcoming visit to North Vietnam, announced by Moscow late Tuesday, the Soviets are making a further bid for leadership of the Red camp in the face of their rivalry with Peking.

Charge Dismissed

A charge of unlawful intrusion against Bertie Haurand, 40, of 60 Franklin Street, was dismissed today in city court.

It was lodged recently by Frank W. Balcom, 60, of the same address. She had also charged him with third degree assault to which he recently pleaded guilty and is due for sentence Friday.

The charges were lodged after reported trouble at the Franklin Street address.

Loses License 60 Days

A charge of driving while intoxicated against Orlando Ingalls, 28, of PO Box 41, Kingston, was dismissed in city court today. He pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of driving while his ability was impaired and his license was ordered suspended for 60 days. A charge of failure to keep right was dismissed. He was represented by Attorney Edward T. Feeney.

Held for Hearing

Charged with third degree assault, Chester Ennis, 35, of Ulster Heights, was arrested Tuesday by Ellenville state police on complaint of Mary Rovenenti of Ulster Heights. Troopers said Ennis was held in $100 bail pending a hearing Thursday, Dec. 30 before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel, Town of Wawarsing.

Albany Man Found Dead

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — William Murphy, about 60, of Albany, was found dead today in a shopping center lot beside Colvin Avenue, apparently after being struck by an automobile, police said.

They said he died of internal injuries.

The sun does not set between May and July in Hammerfest, Norway.

New Year's Service Set at Riverview

New Years Eve services will be held at the Riverview Baptist Church, 40 Catherine Street, Friday 11 p. m.

There will be music by the senior and young adult choirs. Holy Communion will be observed.

The Rev. John H. Gilmore, pastor will give the sermon on We Have Come This Far by Faith.

Withdraws Plea

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — A man accused of killing his wife's former husband withdrew today an earlier plea of guilty to a charge of second-degree murder in the Aug. 1 slaying of David Klein, 23, of Oriskany Falls.

Robert S. Mercuri, 33, of Rome, originally was indicted on a charge of first-degree murder.

Judge John J. Walsh of Oneida County Court had accepted the guilty plea to the lesser charge last week.

Walsh granted Mercuri's request today to withdraw that plea. The judge said the request was contained in a letter to Dist. Atty. Arthur Darrigrand.

Hudson to Clean Water

Hudson is one of the first cities in the statewide project to clean up its waters. Mayor Samuel T. Wheeler on Tuesday signed contracts amounting to $993,000 for construction of a sewage treatment plant. Mayor Wheeler passed out 15 pens he used in signing the contracts to witnesses of the signing as mementos of the occasion.

The city, state and federal governments will contribute about one-third of the $1.1 million cost of the overall plan. The signing of the contracts was one of the last official acts of Mayor Wheeler, whose term expires on Dec. 31. Tuesday's signing was for construction of the plant proper and two pumping stations and adjacent sewer lines.

LBJ Works on Budget

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson pushes ahead today with work on his new budget after reviewing costs of the Vietnam war — and possibilities for peace — with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Johnson and McNamara are pretty well agreed on a supplemental defense appropriation request, to finance Viet Nam outlays, that will go to Congress in a package separate from the regular budget.

The President already has gotten $1.7 billion of additional funds for the war. The supplemental request is expected to be about $2 billion or more.

Harry A. Moxham

The funeral of Harry A. Moxham, who died suddenly Saturday evening, was held from the Halloran Funeral Home, 261 Broadway, Tuesday at 10:30 a. m. thence to St. Mary's Church where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly at 11 a. m. During the repose at the funeral home many friends and neighbors called to pay their respects. The floral tributes were beautiful and the spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards were numerous. Monday evening Father Farrelly called and led the assembled family and friends in the recitation of the Holy Rosary. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father Farrelly gave the final blessing. Bearers were J. Austin Macdonald, Thomas Gualtieri, Frank Rylewicz and Fred Genther.

Franklin St. Church Sets Service Friday

New Years Eve services will be conducted Friday 11 p. m. at the Franklin Street A.M.E. Zion Church.

Music will be presented by the combined church choirs with Mrs. Ernest Cannine as soloist. The pastor, the Rev. Vernon Douglas, will preach on the topic Pressing Toward to Mark for the Prize.

Suffered Burns

Thomas Donato, of 113 Stephan Street, who suffered burns in a fire at his home this morning was reported in fair condition at the Benedictine Hospital this afternoon. Firemen said the fire started in the cellar of the Donato home when a heater pilot light ignited fumes with gasoline. He suffered burns of the right leg and was taken to the hospital by Doctor Armand Lawrence. Cabinets, a heater and lawn mower were damaged in the blaze which caused heavy smoke in the house. A call at 11:27 a. m. was followed by an alarm from Box 5424, Stephan and Farrelly Streets. Units from Central and Wiltwyck stations and several volunteer companies responded with Chief James M. Brett and Capt. Edwin P. Murphy in charge. A pump stream was used.

Approves $30,435,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Power Commission issued a 50-year license Tuesday to two power companies to build a 325,000 kilowatt pump storage power project on the Allegheny River in Warren County, Pa.

The license went to the Pennsylvania Electric Co., Johnstown, and the Cleveland, Ohio, Electric Illuminating Co.

Cost of the project is estimated at $30,435,000.

The project would be constructed in conjunction with the Allegheny River Dam and the reservoir it will back up to Salamanca, N.Y.

It would use the reservoir as a lower pool. The upper reservoir would be on a plateau above the left abutment of the dam built by the Army Engineers.

Infant Killed

BAY CITY, Mich. (AP) — Jeffrey L. Miller, 3½ months-old of Alden, N.Y., was killed and five persons were injured today in a two-car collision on U.S. 23, 12 miles north of Bay City.

State police said the infant was sleeping on the front seat of a car driven by his father, David J. Miller, 26, when the car was struck by another vehicle which went out of control and crossed a median strip.

Also injured in the accident were Mrs. Miller, 30; Willa M. Erdody, 44, of Pinconning, and her daughters, Diane 15, and Joyce, 11.

Mrs. Florence Marquand

Funeral services for Mrs. Florence Marquand of 500 Church Street, Poughkeepsie who died in that city Friday, were held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at St. John's Episcopal Church with the Rev. Robert T. Shellenberger, rector, officiating. Miss Louise R. Luther was church organist. During the repose at the Francis J. McCardle Funeral Home, 99 Henry Street, many called to pay their respects. Monday evening the Rev. Mr. Shellenberger visited the home and conducted a brief prayer service. Burial took place in Montrose Cemetery where Father Shellenberger conducted the committal. Numerous beautiful floral tributes were received. Bearers were Richard Gardner, David J. Crawford, John Garrison, Vincent Garrison and Oswald G. Dean.

Patrick J. Madden
The funeral of Patrick J. Madden of 11 East Union Street who died Friday was held Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. from Francis J. McCardle Funeral Home, 99 Henry Street and at St. Mary's Church where at 10 a. m. a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Frank Lopez, CSSR. Responses to the requiem were sung by Martin Kelly while Theodore Riccobono was organist. During the repose at the funeral home many called to pay their respects. Monday evening the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly called and with those present recited the Holy Rosary. Numerous and beautiful floral tributes together with many spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards were received. At the conclusion of the Mass and out of respect to the veterans of World War II Mr. Kelly sang the National Anthem. Burial took place in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father Lopez pronounced the final blessing at the grave. Bearers were Edward Albright, William Hahn, Fred Donahue and Thomas Madden. The flag which draped the casket was presented to the deceased's brother in the name of the U.S. Government.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—American business is on a capital spending spree that shows every sign of continuing far into the new year.

Peace scares and war scares may cause tremors now and then in the stock market. But the less emotional planners of the course of industry in the months ahead tend to shrug them off.

Tool Orders Pour In

Orders for machine tools—a symbol of business expansion and modernization—are pouring in at a rate unequalled since the Korean War.

New orders for steel products from construction companies, the railroad equipment industry and auto makers are picking up in recent days as the mills close out their biggest year ever.

Most machine tool makers and steel executives see little chance of order cancellations changing their prospects for increasing prosperity in the months just ahead.

Order backlogs for metal-cutting machines took a big jump in November and now require 7.9 months of operations, highest since May 1956. Backlogs for metal-forming machines soared to 10.6 months.

The National Machine Tool Builders Association says orders for both kinds of equipment totaled $1.3 billion in the first 11 months of the year, against $1.2 billion the previous year.

Some machine tool makers are saying that at the rate new orders are coming in 1966 could top 1965 by 10 per cent.

Boom Gaining Strength

The boom to expand industry's capacity by constructing new plants or buying newer equipment for old factories has been gaining strength since summer. Part of this has been due to the belief in corporate boardrooms that industrial activity is bound to increase next year, even without further military stimulation. Part is belief that such military stimulation is inevitable and likely to increase.

But part also is due to the momentum of the nearly five years of prosperity which has used up much of the idle industrial capacity and is now putting a strain on facilities in some industries. This calls for new plants and equipment to meet the demands that 1966 is expected to provide.

Kept One Old Church

LONDON (AP)—St. Etheldreda's church is in Ely Place, a stone's throw from busy High Holborn and the diamond merchants' district of Hatton Garden, is London's only pre-Reformation church in Roman Catholic hands. All the others were taken over by the Church of England.

Hollywood Had Varied Budget Of News in '65

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This was the year when Hollywood's royalty met England's, when two films named "Harlow" were playing the theaters, and when Lana Turner married for the sixth time.

It was quite a year. Few years in Hollywood's recent history have brought such a varied budget of news as has 1965. As the year wanes, it is time once more to weigh the events and trends that seemed most important to his reporter. Here they are:

Nats' Death Was Shock

1. The death of Nat King Cole. The world knew that the singer had been stricken with cancer, but his death Feb. 15 nevertheless was a shock to millions who enjoyed his mellow style.

2. The struggle for life of Patricia Neal. The Academy Award actress ("Hud," 1963) suffered three massive strokes as she was beginning a movie here, and her chances for survival seemed paper thin. Incredibly, she recovered, and was predicting a return to her career, as soon as she conquered the after-effects of the strokes.

3. Julie Andrews' Oscar. What gave her triumph in "Mary Poppins," a delicious flavor was the fact that she won after being overlooked for "My Fair Lady."

Medical Skill Triumphs

4. Dorothy Malone's illness. Again it was a triumph of medical skill as the star of television's "Peyton Place" held out life after being stricken with blood clots in her lungs. Five weeks after her ordeal, she was sufficiently recovered to return to work.

5. Marriage and fatherhood of Cary Grant. The suave actor, married to actress Dyan Cannon, was cast as a future father in one of the more delightful turns of events in 1965.

6. Passing of the Old Guard. The year brought another toll of movie pioneers, including Jeanette MacDonald, Stan Laurel, Clara Bow, David O. Selznick and Mae Murray.

7. The Frank Sinatra-Mia Farrow romance. As the legendary singer passed the 50-year mark, his steady date was the wisecracking star of "Peyton Place," 30 years his junior.

New Folklore Stamp

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special postage stamp commemorating the feats of Johnny Appleseed will be issued in Leominster, Mass., next Sept. 24.

This first issue of an American folklore series of stamps will honor a man reputed to have traversed 100,000 square miles between Massachusetts and Missouri planting apple tree seeds and seedlings.

Leominster was chosen for the first day issue of the five-cent stamp because it is the birthplace of John Chapman, the original Johnny Appleseed. Leominster records show he was born there in 1774 and died in 1845.

Britain Needs Mosques

LONDON (AP)—Britain needs more mosques for its increasing numbers of Moslem immigrants. When the country's first mosque was built in suburban Woking in 1889, there were only 9,000 Moslems in Britain. Now there are an estimated 175,000.

Are In-Laws Really a Problem These Days? Michigan Sociologist Makes New Study

Are in-laws more likely to help or hinder a young couple in establishing a happy marriage?

Traditionally, in-laws have usually been regarded as a handicap. "Marry an island woman and you marry the whole island," says an Irish proverb. Never rely on the smile of your mother-in-law, is an old Japanese saying.

But a sociologist has come out with a report that indicates that mother-in-law isn't always the problem she is usually thought to be. Likely as not, she's a help.

The sociologist, Robert O. Blood, Jr., of the University of Michigan, based his report on a survey of families in Detroit. The report, made under a research grant by the Institute of Life Insurance, found that in today's urban society, in-laws are a source of trouble for a marriage mainly when they come in too-large or too-steady doses.

Both marriage and kinship are primary relationships, the sociologist notes, and the mere fact that two people get married does not automatically guarantee that they will shift their primary loyalties from their parents to each other.

Unfavorable Circumstances
So if the couple do continue to maintain unusually close relationships with their families, the development of firm marriage bonds based on mutual dependence is hampered, Prof. Blood says. The survey indicates that the most unfavorable circumstances for a young couple's marriage occur when:

(1) The couple settle down in the same neighborhood where they grew up, and where more than half of the relatives on both sides are still living.

The result is a closely connected network of family relationships. While the couple has established a separate household, the sociologist says, they have only partially left home and "neither has any reason for breaking accustomed patterns of dependence and learning new ones." They rely on each other less for mutual assistance in household tasks and for emotional comfort, he found.

(2) Relatives visit frequently, with a high proportion of the visits on a "drop in" basis without notice.

Unannounced visiting indicates that the boundary lines between family units are not clearly established or respected, the sociologist says.

The autonomy of each family unit should be respected, the sociologist says, by being asked in advance of a visit and being given the freedom to decline. Visiting "rights" should not be taken for granted by relatives.

(3) Large family get-togethers are held too often.

Large gatherings reach a point of overpowering frequency sooner than ordinary visiting, Prof. Blood found and hence are much more threatening to the solidarity of the couple's marriage if they occur too often. However, the survey indicates that when a couple's contacts with their relatives do not reach extremes, there is no interference with the establishment of a sound marital relationship.

Marriage and in-laws are not necessarily incompatible, he found, mother-in-law jokes to the contrary. In fact, he concludes that in reasonable doses, in-laws actually provide support for the couple's marriage.

Usually the support is of a psychological and emotional nature—love, affection, companionship, he found. Occasionally it may be more tangible: help with housekeeping tasks, baby-sitting, financial assistance, gifts or aid in getting a job.

Prof. Blood also found that as families become dispersed so that fewer than half of a couple's relatives live in the same neighborhood, the danger of marriage being stifled by a closed family network decreases substantially.

The same is true when only one of the couple has relatives close by.

Visits with relatives can contribute to the solidarity of a marriage when they are carried out as a joint leisure time activity and do not occur too often he found. More than one visit a week is too often, the survey indicated. Once a week or once every two weeks for ordinary visits and no more than once a month for large gatherings were found to be good.

Shun Relatives

Will a couple be better off by shunning their relatives and thus eliminating any possible in-law interference?

Not on the evidence turned up in the survey, says Prof. Blood. Having little or no contact with relatives does not seem to strengthen marriage.

Among couples in the survey who reported seeing relatives seldom or not at all he found that problems in marital adjustment tended to be almost as high as, and in some cases higher than, where couples saw too many relatives.

"People who can't get along with their relatives may not be able to love their marriage partner either," says Prof. Blood.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

Author of "Children Are People" and "Etiquette," etc.

WOMAN NOW WEARING MORE JEWELRY THAN FORMERLY

It has always been the rule of the well-dressed woman not to wear too many jewels in public because such a display is considered ostentatious and in poor taste. But with the improvement in quality, and the consequent rise in popularity of costume jewelry, smart women all over have increased the amount of jewelry they wear in public as well as at home.

As with clothing, jewelry should be chosen and worn with an eye to suitability rather than to fad. A woman with stubby, unattractive hands, for example, should not draw attention to them with a large flashing ring, no matter how popular the style. Furthermore, the type of jewelry worn changes with the time of day and the activity. When engaging in active sport, jewelry of any kind is out of place. In the daytime, a gold or silver bracelet, a string of pearls, and earrings, unadorned by large stones, are more suitable than the brilliant gems that go well with evening clothes. A pretty pin or clip to set off a dress suit is lovely at any hour. In short, the choice of jewelry is limited only by the good taste and the budget of the wearer.

Resigning From A Club

Q—I am faced with the problem of having to write a letter of resignation to a club which I have been a member of the past five years. Will you please tell me to whom the letter should be written and also how to word it?

A—A letter of resignation is written to the secretary of the club and reads something like this: "My dear Mrs. Town: It is with great regret that I find it necessary to resign from the club and to ask you therefore to present my resignation at the next meeting of the governors. Very sincerely, Helen Jones."

The clothes of the bride and groom's parents as well as those of the wedding guests are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Correct Clothes for a Wedding Reception." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of this newspaper.

Salvation Army Sets Watchnight Services

The Salvation Army will conduct a special Watchnight service Friday evening beginning at 10:30.

At 8 o'clock there will be a praise service, and intermission with refreshments, between the praise service and the Watchnight service.

Mr. and Mrs. David Jeffries from Jersey City, will be special guests at both services. They are a musical team and will present both vocal and instrumental selections at both services.

The public may attend.

Dear Abby . . .

Odd Situation!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for ten months and am expecting any minute. Waldemar has lots of faults, but I love him just the same. Waldemar never goes out at night without me, but here is my problem. A friend of his told me that my husband is being unfaithful to me. He says Waldemar brings this girl to his (the friend's) house to make use of the spare bedroom during his lunch hour. She's a college student, but I don't know her name. Now I am thinking that maybe Waldemar put his friend up to telling me so I would leave him. This friend told me I could come to his house any day between 12 and 1 and catch them! Abby, I won't leave my husband, no matter what, even if I have to share him. Should I try to find out the truth or not? I live 1,300 miles away from my family and have no one to talk to.

DEAR TROUBLED: If finding out the "truth" won't make any difference, why bother to find out? You really should tell Waldemar that he should cut out his lunch-hour rendezvous with that college girl. If he's not familiar with the law, he could be put in the pokey.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter married a mortician. My sister's husband recently died. Will you tell me if my daughter was right in refusing to visit her deceased uncle because my sister gave the business to another mortician?

DEAR WONDERING: Your daughter was dead wrong.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 and have just started going to boy-girl parties. At some of these parties, the kids play spin-the-bottle, but so far I have always sat out these games because I haven't had my first "real" kiss yet, and I don't want it at a spin-the-bottle game. Many of my friends think I am a poor sport. How do you feel about my ideas?

OLD-FASHIONED

DEAR OLD: You've got the right idea. Hang onto it. A kiss should be a sincere expression of affection from a boy who kisses you because he has selected YOU. Kissing becomes cheap and meaningless (and leads to other cheap and meaningless acts) when it is "lost" or "won" in a game of chance.

DEAR ABBY: Why do parents let their small children, who don't even talk plainly enough to be understood, answer the telephone?

I know people who, although sitting right near the phone when it rings, let the little ones answer it just to keep them amused. Maybe I'm a coward, because I won't sign my name and I won't tell my friends who are guilty that this grieves me no end. If you think there are others who would also like to get this message across, please put in your column.

NOT ENOUGH NERVE

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CAN'T FORGIVE": To borrow a priceless quote from Herbert: "He that cannot forgive others, breaks the bridge over which he himself must pass if he would ever reach heaven; for everyone has a need to be forgiven."

Troubled: Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Testimonial Planned by Kingston Knights; Msgr. John J. O'Reilly Will Be Honored

A testimonial dinner for the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. O'Reilly, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, this city, and dean of Ulster County, is being planned by Kingston Council No. 275, Knights of Columbus.

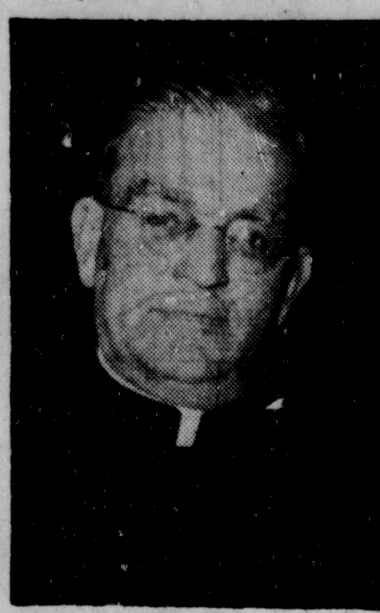

The dinner is scheduled for Saturday, Jan. 29 and will be served at 7 p. m. in the K of C Building, 389 Broadway.

Msgr. O'Reilly, who is chaplain for the Council, will accept a K of C donation for the new St. Joseph's Church.

Members of Kingston Columbianettes will serve the dinner.

Grand Knight Joseph Bruno has announced that early reservations are being made and the event promises to be a social and financial success.

Members of the committee for the dinner are: John Rice, general chairman; Frank Castiglione, co-chairman; Edward Ahl, John Howard, George Dittmar, Allen A. Peace Prober Says U. S. Should Take More Initiative

NEW YORK (AP) Peter Weiss, an intermediary in an alleged Hanoi peace feeler, says the United States should take more initiative to engage Communist North Viet Nam in peace negotiations.

"I don't think we're going to get anywhere if our position is to cease the bombing and wait for North Viet Nam to make the next move," he said Tuesday night.

"As I understand it the other side would be willing to negotiate if we would cease fire completely—not just stop the bombing," he said.

"If we want to pursue all avenues to peace, I don't see that we have a great deal to lose by trying it. If it doesn't work out there is nothing to prevent us from resuming the fight."

Weiss admitted that "a lot of behind the scene efforts are going on" in Washington that he was unaware of. "I really don't know what our position is," he said.

Meanwhile, in Washington the United States was reported to be waiting for a response to the bombing pause through Hungarian diplomatic sources.

Gives Marked Contrast

An official U.S. source said when it came to peace feelers it was the United States which had been taking all the initiative. He said Hanoi has done nothing but offer a four-point program which calls for a Red takeover of South Viet Nam.

Weiss, a New York patent attorney, informally relayed to the U.S. government a memorandum on a talk had had with Giorgio La Pira, a former mayor of Florence, Italy, who reportedly had discussed peace negotiations in Hanoi with President Ho Chi Minh.

He said the memorandum, delivered to Ambassador Arthur Goldberg, U.S. envoy to the United Nations, on Dec. 8, contained a warning that negotiations would not be considered if American forces bombed the Hanoi or Haiphong areas. Six days later U.S. bombers raided a power plant in the Haiphong area.

Weiss said, "I have no personal opinion on whether North Viet Nam is really sincere in its offer to negotiate. But I think we ought to try it—and try it in such a way that it has a maximum chance of being accepted, rather than in the way we're going about it now."

Heiress to Automobile Empire Weds Broker; Bridegroom's Mother in Rothschild Family

NEW YORK (AP) — Anne Ford, stylish heiress to the automobile empire, was married Tuesday in a civil ceremony to stockbroker Giancarlo Uzielli.

Henry Ford II, chairman of the board of the Ford Motor Co., gave his daughter away in a private ceremony in the Fifth Avenue apartment of his former wife, Anne McDonnell Ford.

The bride, 22, listed among the world's best-dressed women, wore a knee-high white silk gabardine dress trimmed in ermine and no veil for the wedding.

It was the first marriage for Miss Ford and the second for Uzielli, 31. Both are Roman Catholics. Criminal Court Judge Frederick L. Strong performed the wedding.

The wedding was the third marriage of a Ford this year.

Anne's older sister, Charlotte, 24, is on a honeymoon in Switzerland after her marriage Dec. 16 to Greek shipping magnate Stavros Spyros Niarchos in Juarez, Mexico. She was to have been the maid of honor at Anne's wedding.

Their father, Henry II, was married for the second time

Feb. 20 to the former Maria Cristiana Vettore Austin, the Italian widow of a British naval officer.

Uzielli is the son of Giorgio Uzielli of New York and Florence, Italy, and Sybil Billotte of Paris. He is a member of the New York Stock Exchange and a partner in his father's company. He is a graduate of Harvard.

His mother is a member of the Rothschild international banking family.

Canned Gravy "Sauces" Veal in This Buffet Dish

Take a tip from good Hungarian cooks—they have long known that a most delicious thing happens when you combine tender veal, a creamy rich sauce, and a splash of wine. The result: Veal Paprika, a show-off dish that has a reputation as gourmet eating.

Now with velvet-smooth canned giblet gravy you have a head start on making the flavorful sauce that lifts this dish out of the ordinary. Add the can of gravy, seasoning, sour cream, and wine to lightly browned veal and simmer gently for a happy blending of flavors. Can you think of an easier way to assure eating par excellence in a matter of minutes?

This dressed-up version of the meat and gravy dishes that men like is party fare. Keep it in mind the next time you entertain. The sauced, serving-size pieces of veal spooned over a bed of noodles are just right for

VEAL PAPRIKA

1½ pounds sliced veal cutlet, trimmed
2 cups sliced mushrooms
½ cup sliced onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Salt and pepper
1 can (10½ ounces) giblet gravy
½ cup sour cream
1 tablespoon dry red wine
½ cup chopped canned tomatoes
½ teaspoon paprika
Dash caraway seed
Pound veal with meat hammer or edge of heavy saucer, cut into serving-size pieces. In skillet, brown veal with mushrooms and onion in butter. Season with salt and pepper. Stir in gravy, sour cream, wine, tomatoes, and seasonings. Cover; cook over low heat 30 minutes or until tender. Stir now and then. Uncover last 5 minutes to thicken gravy. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Church Ordains Elders, Deacons

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered at the 9:45 a. m. and 11 a. m. services of worship at Saugerties Reformed Church Sunday. Officiating will be the Rev. Orville Jay Hine, assisted by the elders and deacons. The adult choir will sing "A Blessing" by Shaw, under the direction of Howard Houghtaling. The youth choir will sing at the 9:45 a. m. service under the direction of Donald Reinhard.

At the services new members will be received into the church. For this purpose the elders will meet at 9 a. m. in the church sanctuary with the persons who desire to become members.

The Service of Ordination and Installation of Elders and Deacons will be conducted by the pastor. Being ordained as an elder for the first time will be James Abbott. Ordination to deacon will be administered to Clarence Bryden and Kenneth Kennedy. Other members of the consistory who will be installed into office include elders Ralph Hayes, Terry Staples, C. James Reinhard, Arthur D. York, and Cortland Van Etten. To be installed as deacons are Paul Modjeska, George Turner, William E. Hicken, and Dr. Richard D. Nash.

The Women's Guild for Christian Service will meet on Wednesday, Jan. 5, at 8 p. m. in the Parish Hall with Mrs. Robert Freilich, president, presiding. The Adult Choir, Youth Choir, Girl Scout Troops, Confirmation Class, and boys working for the God and Country Award will all resume meeting.

Baptist Church Notes Activities

The regular mid. Prayer Service and Bible Study will be held in the First Baptist Church of Saugerties at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 30.

The public is invited to attend this service. The regular monthly business meeting will be held at 8:30 p. m. On Friday evening, from 8 until 10:30 p. m., the annual New Year's Eve Service will be held in the church. The showing of the gospel film "Monkey Business" will be a special part of the service. This film is the Christian answer to evolution. The public is invited to attend this service.

On Sunday, at 9:05 a. m., the Wonderful Word Broadcast will be heard over WGHQ. The pastor, the Rev. Brooks N. Henry, will continue a series of studies from the Book of Revelation. Sunday school is held at 9:45 a. m. with classes from cradle roll through adult. The morning worship service is held at 11 a. m. The sermon is "The Magnificat of Mary. The Ordination of the Lord's Supper will be observed during the morning service. Beginner Church and Primary Church are held during the sermon period. Bridge Club Sets 3 January Meets

First place honors at the Saugerties Duplicate Bridge Club meeting held on December 27 went to Miss Dorothy Maroon and Mrs. J. Olivet of Kingston.

Mrs. Berman and Jack Walter placed second; third place winners were Mrs. E. Lemmer and Mrs. H. Dykes; and fourth place went to Jan Ver Der Poel and Perry Bunyar.

The local Bridge Club plans several meetings next month, including play on January 10 and January 24, with an additional game on January 17, when proceeds will go to the ACDDL charity. All bridge players in the area are welcome to attend meetings which are held in the basement of the Saugerties Savings Bank at 8 p. m.

Wilcox to Retire

A Saugerties man whose civil service career at Watervliet Arsenal at Watervliet has spanned more than two decades will conclude his service on Friday, Dec. 31, when he joins a record 5 members of the arsenal's Twenty Year Club who will retire on that day.

The U. S. Army Materiel Command Information Office at Watervliet has announced that Robert H. Wilcox, 6 Robinson Street, Saugerties, will officially retire at the end of this month.

Boy Injured Fatally

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Scott Campbell, 7, of suburban Irondequoit, was injured fatally Tuesday when he was struck by an automobile as he crossed the Sea Breeze Expressway.

He was the son of Mrs. June Campbell. Scott lived at 15 Strathmore Circle.

HOVERING HAWKERS—Vertical takeoff and landing planes are moving out of the experimental stage and closer to practical use. Here, two models of the British version, the Hawker Siddeley P. 1127 jet fighter, hover only a few feet above ground level during field trials in England by U.S., British and West German airmen. Capitol News In Brief

Klan Hearings Resume

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Committee on Un-American Activities resumes its hearings on the Ku Klux Klan next Tuesday.

The committee is expected to examine Klan operations in a sixth state. Before its hearings were postponed in the fall, the committee heard testimony about the Klan in Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

GOP Plans to Act

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican party is planning to act on a four-year-old study of big-city politics.

GOP National Chairman Ray C. Bliss announced Tuesday that financial troubles had delayed implementation of the proposals in the report.

Among the report's recommendations was one that every major city have a full-time chairman or executive director to oversee party organization.

Bliss also told a news conference that the national committee will provide assistance and manpower where it is needed to help revive GOP city organizations, work with minority groups and aid in research and public relations.

Bans Petrol, Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department has banned the shipment of petroleum products or shotguns from the United States to Rhodesia.

The Rhodesian government, controlled by whites, has declared its independence from Great Britain.

Great Britain has reacted by applying economic pressures designed to bring the African nation back in line.

Great Britain previously announced an end to oil shipments to Rhodesia.

Capital Footnotes

Surgeon General William H. Stewart has named a 10-member advisory committee on U.S. Public Health Service quarantine activities. The Interior Department says a record number of wild whooping cranes — 36 adults and eight youngsters — have checked in at their winter resort, the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Texas.

Teachers Union To Plan Strike At St. John's U

NEW YORK (AP) — A college teachers union will hold a mass meeting tonight to plan a strike at St. John's University in protest against the university's firing of 31 faculty members.

The United Federation of College Teachers, AFL-CIO, went ahead with its plans for a strike next Monday after the administration of the nation's largest Roman Catholic university Tuesday rejected mediation offers by the city's acting labor commissioner, James J. McFadden.

The Rev. Joseph T. Cahill, president of the university, wired McFadden that the dispute with the teachers involves academic matters and so "any action within the framework of formal labor relations procedures, such as your office has offered to provide, would not be appropriate in resolving this difficulty."

Union officials met with McFadden earlier in the day. The city Central Labor Council appealed Tuesday to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Mayor-elect John V. Lindsay to intervene.

The teachers union has pressed for almost a year for a change in tenure policy and for more influence in setting educational and administrative policies.

The administration fired several teachers outright and notified others it would not pick up their contract after the end of the school year in June because of "unprofessional conduct."

About 13,000 students are enrolled at the school's campuses in Brooklyn and Queens.

Pressure Gains To Halt Strike At Arms Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government steps up its pressure today to end a strike which the Pentagon says could virtually cut off the supply of rifle and machine-gun ammunition for U.S. fighting men in Viet Nam.

"We want a settlement," said chief federal mediator William E. Simkin after reporting scant progress toward ending the 29-day strike of AFL-CIO machinists at the Olin Mathieson Chemical Co. plant in East Alton, Ill.

The Pentagon said the plant is the sole supplier of gunpowder for rifle and machine-gun bullets and 20mm shells used in Viet Nam.

"The Army will face a critical problem in supplying the ammunition requirements" unless the strike is settled quickly, the Pentagon said.

While Simkin pressed for a voluntary settlement of the dispute over wages, fringe benefits and working conditions, the White House reportedly was ready to halt the strike with court action if necessary.

President Johnson would have to sign a petition to a federal court for an 80-day "cooling off" injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act.

HHH in Manila On Second Stop

MANILA (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived in Manila today on the second stop of his brief Asian tour after asking the Japanese government to help bring peace to Viet Nam.

Humphrey will represent the United States at the inauguration Thursday of President Ferdinand E. Marcos.

During his 18-hour stopover in Tokyo, Humphrey asked Prime Minister Eisaku Sato for the help of Japan "or any other government" to achieve peace in Viet Nam.

All humanity would appreciate Japan's efforts if they succeeded, Humphrey told Sato during a 93-minute conference earlier today. Their talks were closed but newsmen were told what was said by U.S. Embassy counselor J. Owen Zurhellen Jr.

Humphrey apparently was not expecting a Japanese reply to his appeal, and Zurhellen said it was in such general terms that none was called for.

Humphrey's statements seemed to be directed more at Japanese critics of American policy in Viet Nam than at the government, which supports the U.S. stand.

Mt. Tremper

MT. TREMPER — Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Umhey were hosts to the following guests on Saturday — her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Platt of Phoenixia, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Umhey and five children, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Umhey.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Phillips and Norman Segar were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gardner and daughter, Christina of Boiceville on Christmas.

In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Phillips called on Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Phillips in Ashokan.

A surprise banquet and cocktail party was given for Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Every Sr. on Sunday evening in honor of their 40th wedding anniversary. Over 100 guests were assembled in Al's Seafood Grill in Phoenixia when they arrived. Their children, Earl, Reginald Jr. and Mrs. Lanny Gale arranged the event. The place was beautifully decorated, and a large wedding cake was the center of attraction.

Mrs. Alta DeSilva spent the holiday weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert More in Delancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Every Jr. and their four children of Owego are visiting his parents for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Reese Smith and her mother, Alida Lane, spent the holiday weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lane in Blue Point, L. I.

Charles Gustafson was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Van Kuren in Oradell, N. J., over the weekend.

Mrs. Grover Hedges spent Christmas with Mrs. Dorothy Burke and daughter Melody, and Winifred and Louise Smith in Willow.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Hoyt of Mt. Pleasant were guests of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Hoyt and family in Garden City, L. I.

Mr. and Mrs. George Molk celebrated their 43rd wedding anniversary Dec. 29. Molk's birthday is on Jan. 10.

On Christmas day Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schuster and family of Saugerties, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Winne and family and Mrs. Mabel Buley were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Winne Sr.

Mrs. Carolyn Valardi spent the holidays with relatives in Long Island.

The Norman D. Wilber family visited with Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Wilber and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelsy during the holidays.

Radar Nets 33

A radar check on Route 209 on Tuesday by Ellenville state police resulted in summonses being issued to 33 motorists. Twenty-nine were charged with driving too fast in a 50-mile zone, and five were issued summonses for other violations of the Vehicle and Traffic law.

Hands Up Sealed Indictment in Buffalo Larceny

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — An Erie County Grand Jury has handed up a sealed indictment after hearing testimony on charges of attempted first-degree grand larceny against a former state senator and a Buffalo policeman.

The action came Tuesday after Judge Alois Mazur of City Court had dismissed in the day the larceny charges against Stanley J. Bauer, 52, of Buffalo, who served eight years in the Senate, and Patrolman Eugene J. Siroka, 38, of nearby West Seneca.

Mazur ruled that the district attorney's office impaired the right of Bauer and Siroka to a speedy hearing because his office failed to have a representative at a preliminary hearing on time.

The indictment was presented to Judge Frederick M. Marshall of Erie County Court.

The earlier charges stemmed from a scheme to accept $2,000 from a Carl S. Gmerek, 22, of Buffalo, who was charged with extortion and compounding a crime, Dist. Atty. Michael F. Dillon said.

The money was accepted on the pretense it would be paid to "one or more public officials for the purpose of effecting a dismissal or a reduction of charges pending," he added.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I received a nice letter from Joseph V. Phelan of Shokan, who writes in part: "Whatever became of the old Hudson River nightboats, Ontario and Kaaterskill of the Old Catskill Evening Line, hauling passengers and freight between Catskill and New York City? In alternating nightly trips to and from these boats left Catskill and New York City at 9 p. m. in the early years of this century prior to 1912."

Mr. Phelan further writes: "These boats, coming and going, passed each other on the Hudson River below Anthony's Nose and played their searchlights on each other, especially on the upper decks, in summer season. When the nightboat on the down trip from Catskill Creek Landing reached a point on the river somewhere between Old Smith's Landing and Kingston Point, the Old Catskill Mountain House on Otis Mountain played her searchlights full force on the passing nightboat and the passing parade along the upper decks in the warm summer evening."

One way fare, Catskill to New York was $1.25 and stateroom was 50 cents write Mr. Phelan.

He further writes that in those early years around the turn of the century there was the steamer, Ursula, carrying passengers and freight between Catskill and Albany. The boat left Catskill Creek Landing at 7 a. m. returning from Albany at 8 p. m. daily except Sunday. During summer season the Ursula returning from Albany to Catskill Creek Landing at 8 p. m. would occasionally load passengers on Moonlight Excursions from Catskill to Kingston Point Park, returning to Catskill about 2 a. m. "By the Light of the Silvery Moon," and "23-Skiddoo."

Frequently on summer days, there were Sunday school excursions from Catskill to Kingston Point Park and return on a hay barge hauled by a tug boat. They were mostly mothers and children out for a day's enjoyment of the pleasures at Kingston Point Park, and those days, that was really something to talk about from summer to summer. Of course there was meeting new and old friends.

He further writes about the Sunday school excursions on the Old Catskill Mountain Railroad to Palenville and then by cable car up the Otis Mountain incline to dinner at the Catskill Mountain House. That was something else to talk about from summer to summer, he adds, especially the ride on the cable car up and down Otis Mountain. He also told about the little steamer, Isabella, which around that time made four roundtrips daily, carrying passengers and freight between Catskill Creek Landing and Hudson. Roundtrip fare was 25 cents and likewise, the little steamer, Livingston, between Catskill and Germantown. Then of course there were the old Hudson River Dayline steamers coming and going up and down the Hudson daily. There are now perhaps two generations which have never been on a Hudson River steamer, some never on a train, and many never on a New York City subway.

er went on a New York City subway.

He feels that when Henry Ford's tin lizzie came around 1909 it soon ended those glorious excursions on the mighty Hudson River. Ford put the country on wheels and "converted our Old Home Sweet Home" into a "Yankee Cheesecake." Yet, he adds, "Nothing has yet replaced the crowds of bathers along the Hudson River shores on a warm Sunday afternoon in August, and riding the surf swell from the passing riverboats. He adds that a couple of sixteen year old kids journeyed to Kingston from Catskill via the West Shore Railroad on a Saturday evening in the summer of 1910 and went to a theatre not far from the railroad station and saw "Madame Sherry."

'Earp' Reflects On Experience In Saddle Days

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hugh O'Brian as "Wyatt Earp" was a fast gun and a high Neilsen for six years in television's Old West.

O'Brian and the series quit while they were ahead and the actor, now only an occasional visitor in the nation's living rooms, looks back on the experience with mixed emotions.

"Television offers a young, unknown actor three things," he said. "Exposure to the public, money and aggravation."

His aggravation was real enough when the Western series went into syndicated reruns and he found, as others before him, that he was a victim of typecasting. Today he is more mellow, partly because he has finally succeeded in breaking the mold.

"Of course I'm eternally grateful to Wyatt," he said. "Before that I'd done some things, but mostly I played bad men. I don't upset me at all when the public thinks of me or recognizes me as that character. My problem was that producers of motion pictures think of me as a Western actor."

O'Brian, currently in New York rehearsing as host of NBC's Telephone Hour next Sunday, has found a niche in films. He recently returned from making an adventure movie in the Philippines and a mystery shot in Ireland will be seen in movie houses soon.

He said his long television experience had proved both helpful and a drawback.

"I learned to memorize quickly. And I learned to adjust fast to situations. But working at high speed with a lot of lines I tended to go to the obvious in handling a situation. There was never time to really rehearse."

Arkansas Dems Look To Primary To Head Off Party Rivalry

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Democrats hope to hold a primary to settle fierce intraparty rivalry before a special election is set to pick a successor to Rep. Oren Harris.

Their aim is to avoid a battle for the congressional seat among Democratic contenders in an open election, which would give a Republican or Negro the greatest opportunity for victory since Reconstruction.

Harris, 62, a Democrat, cleared the decks for the struggle among ruling state Democrats by announcing in Washington Tuesday that he will bow out Feb. 3 after 24 years in Congress.

Harris, chairman of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, was nominated July 26 and confirmed Aug. 11 for a federal judgeship at El Dorado, his hometown.

His resignation was delayed, he said, because of "a problem in our state with reference to a special election for my successor."

Without elaborating, Harris said the political situation in Arkansas almost prevented him from accepting the judgeship.

The situation, as most observers saw it, was that Gov. Orval E. Faubus would have to call a special election to fill the congressional vacancy, with the chance of as many as 15 or 20 Democrats splitting the Democratic vote.

A Republican, or a Negro candidate from either party, might win such a race, even with only a small percentage of the total vote.

Faubus moved Tuesday to eliminate the chance of a Democratic split by saying he would call a special primary before the special general election. This would let the Democrats trim their roster of candidates, do their infighting backstage and consolidate the Democratic vote for the general election.

The backlog of Democratic candidates apparently stems from the fact that every member of the Arkansas delegation has been in Congress since at least 1945.

Harris is the first of the long-time incumbents to step down, and office hungry Democrats, even if confined to a party primary, are expected to do some free-swinging electioneering.

Predicts 402,000 Men To See Action in Viet

EDITOR'S NOTE — Unless peace talks come soon — and they don't seem to be imminent — President Johnson has spoken of new hard steps that will have to be taken in Viet Nam. What will this involve in military terms? This is the third of four articles on the American role in Viet Nam.

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. military effort in Viet Nam may approach or exceed the 402,000-man peak level of the Korean War by next summer. With this buildup, the tempo of the fighting will increase. There will be longer American casualty lists.

These doubtless will bring still stronger pressure on the Johnson administration to bomb such so-called "privileged sanctuaries" as Hanoi, the port city of Haiphong, and perhaps even Cambodian border areas where the Communists resupply and rest.

240,000 There Now

So far the United States has committed about 240,000 men to the Viet Nam fighting — 180,000 on land and 60,000 with the 7th Fleet in adjoining waters.

Official sources indicate American strength may be increased by another 150,000 in the next six months or so. Some high military officials say they would not be surprised to see 500,000 Americans engaged by this time next year. Peak U.S. strength in the Korean War theater was about 402,000 men.

Even more than the decision last winter to bomb North Viet Nam, the fundamental turning point probably was President Johnson's action ordering the Army's 1st Cavalry, Airborne Division and other big reinforcements into the Viet Nam battle.

That action last summer stripped away whatever was left of the U.S. guise as adviser to the South Vietnamese armed forces. It made the United States a major combatant in the ground war.

Prestige on Line

Now U.S. prestige is on the line — and North Viet Nam has raised the stakes by choosing to confront the United States in South Viet Nam with a growing number of Hanoi's regular army troops.

North Vietnamese and Communist Viet Cong soldiers number around 200,000, and the North Vietnamese are expected to pour in another 4,500 a month now that the rainy season is over.

The land forces opposing the Reds total about 700,000. This includes U.S. troops, more than 500,000 South Vietnamese, 18,000 South Koreans and small contingents of Australians and New Zealanders.

The ratio in favor of the anti-Communist side is roughly 3½-1. This is far less than the 8-1 and 10-1 preponderance often cited as the effective requirement to win a guerrilla type war.

Must Learn Ratio

Lt. Gen. B. E. Spivy, a planning director for the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said some time ago: "Frankly, I do not know the ratio of government to guerrilla forces required to prevail in Viet Nam. This is something we shall learn."

Among other things, the professionals say the availability of hundreds of helicopters to move anti-Communist troops swiftly tends to downgrade the old ratio theory.

Also, the more the enemy comes out in battalion and regiment strength, and the more he stand and fights, the more the war loses its guerrilla character.

McNamara Pledges

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has pledged that this country will send as many fighting men as are needed.

President Johnson's warning that "other hard steps" may be taken if the Communists spurn negotiations has been interpreted as laying the foundation for intensification of the war, particularly by air.

Repeated assaults on bridges, roads, ferries and similar targets have been notably unsuccessful in stemming the Communist infiltration into South Viet Nam.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff and powerful members of Congress have been urging that the air attacks be aimed at North Viet Nam's economic heart.

The proponents of this strategy favor going after all North Viet Nam's oil stocks, her industry, and the port of Haiphong. Some call for bombing dike and irrigation works, thus imperiling North Viet Nam's food supplies.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, retired Air Force chief of staff, believes that if North Viet Nam's entire oil supply were knocked out, transportation would halt. North Viet Nam has to import oil and stockpile it.

LeMay and the Navy also want to cripple the port of Haiphong by smashing the dredges that keep open a channel to the docks, by destroying the docks themselves, and by mining the approaches.

Leaflet Warfare

Gen. Thomas S. Power, former commander of the Strategic Air Command, favors a carefully graduated scale of such attacks coupled with a leaflet and psychological warfare campaign. He would pause between each round of attacks and give the Reds a chance to seek peace.

Civilian leaders in the U.S. government so far have resisted such demands. They feel that escalation of this kind would carry the high risk of bringing Red China directly into the fighting.

Officials view the recent bombing of a Haiphong area power plant as an intensification rather than an escalation of the air war, though they concede the attack came closer to the port city than any previous U.S. air assault.

The U.S. Air Force and Navy bomber strikes which began last Feb. 7 have halted daylight travel on the roads and hindered night movement. The attacks have mangled 60 or so bridges.

Alternate Routes

But the North Vietnamese — using ox carts, bicycles and their backs — have moved supplies via alternate routes.

The cost to the United States in airplanes lost passed the 60 mark last week.

On the ground, the prospect is for more actions similar to the 1st Cavalry's "find 'em and kill 'em" operations in the Ia Drang Valley and the Marine amphibious landing to trap a Communist force below Da Nang.

The toll of Americans killed in action in the air and on the ground is edging toward the 2,000 mark. About 1,000 have fallen in the past six months.

In the three-year Korean War, 33,629 Americans were killed in action. For the most part, that war was a conventional struggle between mass armies. Until now, actions in the Viet Nam war have mainly been fought out between forces of battalion size or smaller.

If brigade-size battles become the pattern in the year ahead, the casualties will increase correspondingly.

The rate at which more U.S. forces can be introduced into Viet Nam depends directly on the speed with which new airfields, ports and supply bases are brought to completion.

Army Engineers are creating a giant base at Cam Ranh Bay, the best anchorage in that part of the world. They are, in effect, building a small city from scratch.

When Cam Ranh Bay is in high gear, it may by itself be able to support a force as big as 600,000 men.

About 15,000 Army Engineers are at work on construction projects throughout South Viet Nam.

New engineers and civilian contractors have finished more than $150 million worth of military construction in Viet Nam and another $150 million worth is on the way. The expansion of the Marine-Navy base at Da Nang is one of the Navy's largest undertakings.

The pipeline has had to be organized all the way back to the United States — a pipeline not only of thousands of tons of arms, ammunition and supplies but of men as well.

The Army has boosted its training output and expects to produce 408,000 new soldiers this year, compared with 195,000 last year. It takes four months of basic and advanced individual training to make a soldier.

The Marines also have intensified and expanded their production of fighting men. As of the end of October, more than 48,000 men were under Marine training.

Where will the men come from to maintain the accelerated war effort, plus this country's worldwide responsibilities? Probably by continuing large monthly draft calls and encouraging enlistments.

Last summer, President Johnson considered calling up National Guardsmen and Reservists.

The administration could have mustered about 80,000 Guardsmen and Reservists in two divisions, two brigades and supporting units, plus 19 Air Guard and Reserve squadrons totaling 30,000 men, plus thousands of Navy and Marine Reservists.

Almost at the 11th hour, Johnson and McNamara chose instead the course of a slow-paced strengthening of the armed forces through big draft quotas and stimulated enlistments.

Next: political repercussions.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 29, the 363rd day of 1965. There are two days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1890, the last fight of any importance between U.S. troops and the Indians took place at Wounded Knee Creek, South Dakota. Some 200 Indians and 30 soldiers were killed in an attempt to disarm the remaining Sioux Indians, leaderless since the death of Sitting Bull.

In 1778, the British captured Savannah, Ga. In 1845, Texas was admitted to the Union as the 28th state. In 1863, Arizona was organized as a territory.

In 1934, Japan formally renounced the Washington Naval Treaty of 1922. In 1944, the Allies cracked the German front in the Belgian Battle of the Bulge. Ten years ago — Soviet leaders denounced President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Christmas message on liberation of Soviet satellite nations.

Five years ago — The Boun Oum government of Laos appealed to the U.N. for aid against a reported invasion of Laos by troops from Communist North Viet Nam and possibly from Red China.

One year ago — Government forces battled for the second straight day in an effort to drive Communist troops from Binh Nghia, district capital 40 miles east of Saigon, Viet Nam's capital.

VanDyke's Foul Shot Gives KHS Tournament Win

Championship Tilt Scheduled Tonight At Field House

By ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

Richie VanDyke's successful foul shot with 22 seconds left gave Kingston High a pulsating, 56-55, win over Ossining last night at the Kate Walton Field House and sent the Maroon into the finals of the second annual KHS Basketball tournament.

In the opener, Beacon's poised Bulldogs broke away from Albany in the final eight minutes and handed the upstarters their first setback of the season, 79-60.

However, the big excitement came in the final eight minutes of the second game and the crowd of more than 1,200 will be talking about this one for a long time.

The taller Westchester outfit broke open a tight first half, which ended in a 25-20 deadlock, with 19 points in the third session while holding the home side to nine. It was a 44-34 affair with the visitors on top as the final eight minutes began.

Three minutes later, the KHS players had nibbled a little at the margin and were now down, 46-39, and coach Jack Gilligan sent them into a press.

Bach Razors Edge
Brian Bach (and what a performance he gave) made a layup and foul to razor the edge to four points, 46-42. The big crowd was now warming to the occasion.

After deadeye Frank Selby connected from outside for Ossining, that man Bach came through once more, this time with a jump shot from the key.

Vince Ammerata made two foul tries for the Indians and Richie VanDyke, another clutch performer for Kingston, matched them.

Then, within a matter of seconds, Ron Lindsay drove in for a layup after taking a lead pass from Gary VanEtten and Bach tallied as he was fed by Lindsay. It was now 50-50 and the clock showed 3:50 left. This one was building up for a climatic finish.

Ossining Goes Ahead
Selby's foul at 3:35 sent Ossining ahead but Bach connected with two charity tosses for the Maroon. Big Tom Cooke was backed underneath the basket and he calmly converted both his tries. Ossining now led, 53-52, and time was running out. There was 2:10 remaining.

VanDyke, who was always in the right place at the right time, pumped in a jump shot at the 1:45 mark to send his club in front, 54-53. Ossining missed a bucket, the home side took over and Gilligan promptly ordered his players to put the ball into a deep freeze.

VanEtten was fouled with 48 seconds to go and he converted one of two tries. But Cooke tapped in a missed shot for the Indians and it was a new ball game once more, 55-55, with half a minute to play.

Eight seconds later, VanDyke was fouled. He made the first to decide the match, but there was still tension as the visitors took possession.

Heppner Blocks It
After calling a time out, they moved the ball inside a John Sessa went up for a shot. Dan Heppner, who had a trying night on offense, went up with his opponent and blocked the shot. It was a great defensive effort.

Again Sessa went up to try and win the game and once more Heppner jumped with him, blocking a second shot. This time a held ball was called and the two jumped at the free throw circle.

Heppner won the tap and Van Etten held the ball for dear life while the final eight seconds ticked off the clock.

At the finish bedlam broke loose and the tired KHS quintet was mobbed. Except for a brief instance, the starters went all the way and turned in solid performances.

Crack Eastern Ski Jumpers Appear Sunday at Rosendale

Many of the leading ski jumpers in the eastern United States, including Peter Langlois, Per Coucheron and former national champion Roy Sherwood are scheduled to compete in the Grand Opening Jump, Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Nordic Ski Club in Rosendale.

The vanguard of greats is expected to start converging on the village of Rosendale Thursday.

Coucheron, a former member of the Norwegian National team, is presently a student at Dartmouth College.

Class A jumper Langlois, who jumped 307 feet in the North American Championships at Iron Mountain, Michigan, is due to arrive Thursday.

Air Force Major
Major Dave Tilton, a veteran jumper who is a test pilot for the U.S. Air Force, is expected to compete, along with Steve White and Bob Roderick, both of whom competed in the National Championships last February.

The U.S. Eastern training camp held during the Christmas holidays at Lake Placid ends Friday morning and the entire squad will head for Rosendale.

Among them will be Jay Rand, Jr., whose father beat Art Devlin back in 1941 at the last jump in Rosendale. He holds a Junior A classification and represents Northwood School at Lake Placid. He regularly jumps over 200 feet in 70-meter hill competition.

Competing against him will be another son of a famous Olympic and National champion, Arthur Tokel Jr., 16, who also is a 200-foot regular.

Murphy In Field
Among the Class A jumpers is Earl Murphy, who became rather famous in the most publicized ski photograph of last season, when he lost one ski in mid-air in a tournament at Bear Mountain.

Arthur Tokel, U. S. Olympic and National Ski Jumping coach will serve as technical director for the competition.

The partial entry list, among members of the Eastern training camp, includes: Richard Micoian, Lake Placid Ski Club; Arthur Tokel Jr., Odin Ski Club; and Jay Rand, Northwood School; Philharmonic Orchestra will play Jan. 6, 13, 20.

January events are listed in the free Events Calendar issued by the State Department of Commerce, 112 State Street, Albany, N. Y. 12207.

At Bear Mountain
There will be ski jumping at Bear Mountain, Jan. 8-9, 15-16, 23. The National Modern Winter Biathlon, a military ski competition, will be at Rosendale on Jan. 23.

A unique contest will take place at Cortland, Jan. 30, when Milligan led the unbeaten Bulldogs with 26 points.

Beacon will seek a second straight championship tonight when it throws its famed press and speed against the ball-control and defensive tactics of the host school.

Albany and Ossining will battle at 7:30 for third place.

At the conclusion of the tournament, trophies will be awarded and then the four teams will be feted at a pancake and sausage supper at Kingston Post 150, American Legion, courtesy of The Quaker Oats Company.

Clyde Lee Now Wears Long Pants

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

It took some time for tall Clyde Lee to get used to short pants and a lot longer to get used to long pants. Lee is a tiger and the Vanderbilt Commodores are running wild.

Vanderbilt, the nation's No. 2 college basketball power, rolled to its ninth straight victory Tuesday night, outscoring previously unbeaten Syracuse 113-98 in the first round of the Los Angeles Classic as 6-foot-9 pivot Lee poured in 39 points.

Lee's 31-point second half enabled the Commodores to withstand a record 46-point binge by Syracuse ace Dave Bing and hand the Orange its first setback in seven starts.

A few years ago, Lee was a timid teenager who stood 6-foot-4 and didn't like it. "I didn't play basketball then," he recalls, "because I wouldn't be caught dead in those short pants."

His high school coach eventually won Clyde over to basketball but it took some reverse psychology by Vanderbilt pilot Roy Skinner last season to bring the shy center out of his shell. Skinner showed Lee an opposing team's scouting report that rated him a poor defensive player, an indifferent rebounder and an easy mark to push around.

Has 26 Rebounds
Lee responded with a school record of 26 rebounds in his next game, topped the rebound mark again a few nights later and has been a terror off and around the boards ever since.

The victory sent Vanderbilt into Wednesday night's semifinals with Southern California, 75-63 victor over Northwestern in Tuesday night's second game, and UCLA and Purdue, who won their Monday openers.

Tenth-ranked Providence, only other member of the Top Ten in action, edged Illinois 81-79 on Bill Blair's tap-in with three seconds to play and gained the final of the ECAC Holiday Festival at New York. The Friars, 7-1, swept Boston College, which whipped Army 95-82 behind John Austin's 25 points, for the title Thursday night.

Wesley Unseld and Doris Murray, a pair of 6-foot-8 leapers, sparked Louisville and Detroit to tournament championships at Miami and Detroit, respectively.

Unseld scored 26 points and grabbed 21 rebounds before Wade Houston hit a long one-handed shot at the final buzzer, lifting Louisville past Miami, Fla., 85-84 in the overtime final of the Hurricane Classic.

Botkins Scores 37
Murray totaled 26 points and 18 rebounds as Detroit trimmed William & Mary 80-65 for the Motor City Classic crown. Eddie Botkins' 37 points paced Eastern Kentucky to a 90-76 romp over Harvard in the consolation game at Detroit.

Navy pulled off the night's biggest upset, stunning powerful Davidson 65-60 in the opening round of the Charlotte, N.C., Invitational behind Jim Snook's 18 points. The loss was Davidson's second in nine games. Sophomore John Harlowe caged 18 points as Princeton nipped Mississippi State 69-67 to gain the tourney final against the Mid-dies.

Walt Wesley, Kansas' 6-foot-11 center, outscored 7-foot-11 Nick Pino of Kansas State 24-12, leading the Jayhawkers to a 69-63 decision over the Wildcats in the first round of the Big Eight.

Towney, Iowa State topped Colorado 89-72, joining Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma in the semifinals.

Virginia Tech, beaten only by top-ranked Duke in six starts, overpowered Texas A&M 101-74 and tourney favorite Wichita State 82-81, completing the first round of the All College Tournament at Oklahoma City. The host school and Rhode Island reached the semis with victories Monday night.

Two Quarterbacks on All-NFL

Unitas, Brodie Are Selected

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA)—The West's domination of the National Football League is born out by the All-Players All-Pro team released today by Newspaper Enterprise Association.

Western players grabbed off 18 of the 23 spots on the offensive and defensive platoons, just as Western teams won 13 out of 14 games in interdivision competition this year.

The odd number of 23 comes in recognition of the year of attrition for pro quarterbacks, and so John Brodie of San Francisco was named by the players of the NFL, who participate in the voting, to share the position with John Unitas of Baltimore, who missed four games of the regular season.

Brodie led the league in pass completions, percentage, yards and touchdowns passes (30). The value of Unitas, of course, was proved by the sudden slump of the Colts after he hurt his knee.

This is the 11th annual team picked for NEA with the cooperation of the National Football League Players Association. It will be presented in a special half-hour program over the Columbia Broadcasting System network preceding the NFL championship game.

Will Receive Trophies
The 1965 All-Pro will also be feted at the Pro Bowl game in Los Angeles, where they will receive individually engraved trophies by CBS and monogrammed sweaters designed by Robert Bruce.

The Baltimore Colts, who made a dramatic comeback after Unitas' injury to tie for the western lead on the last weekend of the regular season, were honored with five positions on the offensive and defensive units. Next, with three each, were Green Bay, Chicago and Detroit.

The old pros for this unique honor are Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's great fullback, and Jim Parker, a perennial in the offensive line for the Colts. This is Parker's eighth straight award since 1958, his sophomore season in the league. He was an all-pro at tackle for the first five times, then switched to guard in 1963 without a hitch in his effectiveness.

Brown is also an eight-time winner, though his skin was interrupted briefly in 1962 when he skidded under the 1,000-yard mark in rushing. This year he gained more votes at his position than any man in the entire pool.

Ditka Missing
Missing for the first time since he cracked the all-pro ranks in 1961 is Mike Ditka, the tough tight end of the Chicago Bears. But that's only because Pete Retzlaff, the 33-year-old veteran receiver of the Philadelphia Eagles, enjoyed a phenomenal season to gain his first all-league honors.

Other "rookies" on this mythical team are San Francisco's Dave Parks, the NFL's top pass receiver, flanker Jimmy Orr of the Colts, tackle Robert Brown of the Eagles, center Mick Tingelhoff of Minnesota and halfback Gale Sayers of the Bears on offense; for the defense—end Deacon Jones of Los Angeles, middle linebacker Dick Butkus of Chicago, halfbacks Herby Adderley of the Packers and Bobby Boyd of the Colts, and safety Mel Renfro of Dallas. That's a 50 per cent turnover from '64.

The 1965 All-Pro will also be feted at the Pro Bowl game in Los Angeles, where they will receive individually engraved trophies by CBS and monogrammed sweaters designed by Robert Bruce.

The Baltimore Colts, who made a dramatic comeback after Unitas' injury to tie for the western lead on the last weekend of the regular season, were honored with five positions on the offensive and defensive units. Next, with three each, were Green Bay, Chicago and Detroit.

The old pros for this unique honor are Jimmy Brown, Cleveland's great fullback, and Jim Parker, a perennial in the offensive line for the Colts. This is Parker's eighth straight award since 1958, his sophomore season in the league. He was an all-pro at tackle for the first five times, then switched to guard in 1963 without a hitch in his effectiveness.

Brown is also an eight-time winner, though his skin was interrupted briefly in 1962 when he skidded under the 1,000-yard mark in rushing. This year he gained more votes at his position than any man in the entire pool.

Ditka Missing
Missing for the first time since he cracked the all-pro ranks in 1961 is Mike Ditka, the tough tight end of the Chicago Bears. But that's only because Pete Retzlaff, the 33-year-old veteran receiver of the Philadelphia Eagles, enjoyed a phenomenal season to gain his first all-league honors.

Other "rookies" on this mythical team are San Francisco's Dave Parks, the NFL's top pass receiver, flanker Jimmy Orr of the Colts, tackle Robert Brown of the Eagles, center Mick Tingelhoff of Minnesota and halfback Gale Sayers of the Bears on offense; for the defense—end Deacon Jones of Los Angeles, middle linebacker Dick Butkus of Chicago, halfbacks Herby Adderley of the Packers and Bobby Boyd of the Colts, and safety Mel Renfro of Dallas. That's a 50 per cent turnover from '64.

The literal rookies are Sayers and Butkus, who carry on a trend started last year by the

Over 2 Million In Golf Stakes

Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. (AP)—The Professional Golfers Association Tuesday predicted that total prize money to be paid in its 1966 spring and summer tournaments would exceed the record $2 million set this year.

The tour opens April 14 with the $100,000 Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas and ends Sept. 10-11 with the World Series of Golf.

The $200,000 Carling World Open goes overseas for the first time and will be played at the Royal Birkdale Golf Club at Southport, England, Aug. 31-Sept. 3.

Lincoln Park, Hub Delis Win In YMCA League

With all seven players scoring in double figures, Lincoln Park Inn routed the Ramblers' four-man lineup, 113-57, in the YMCA "B" basketball league.

In other games, Hub Delicatessen No. 2 edged Jack's Barber Shop 55-52, and Corner Reston on forfeit from Saugerties, 2-0.

Ted Beam led Lincolns with 22 points. Scott Miller dunked 25 for Ramblers. John Burris his 17 and John Vaughn (16) for Hubs, with Dan Potter meshing 16 for Jack's.

Santana Hands Emerson Rare Tennis Beating

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Manuel Santana gave Spain its first victory in the Davis Cup challenge round Tuesday when he defeated Australia's Roy Emerson 2-6, 6-3, 6-4, 15-13 after the Aussies had turned back Spain's cup bid by winning the first three matches in the best-of-five series.

Fred Stolle of Australia battled Spain's Juan Gisbert in the final match.

Santana's victory over Wimbledon champion Emerson marked the first time the Aussie great had lost a Davis Cup singles match. No other player had ever taken more than one set against Emerson in challenge singles.

The Santana-Emerson match had been billed as an unofficial world amateur championship with the Spanish and Australian stars acknowledged as the game's top amateurs after Santana won the American title at Forest Hills and Emerson took the Wimbledon crown in London last summer.

Detroit Wings Beat Boston, 1-0

BOSTON (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings are parlaying an aggressive defense anchored by goalie Roger Crozier and mastery of the Boston Bruins in a bid for a second straight National Hockey League championship.

The hustling Red Wings moved to within two points of the first-place Montreal Canadiens by defeating the Bruins for the seventh straight time Tuesday night as Crozier registered his second consecutive 1-0 shut-out. It was the only league action.

"Have you ever seen a club check like that?" Boston coach Milt Schmidt asked in amazement after the Wings made the Bruins look like a group of complete strangers.

"They're the best checking club in the league by far," Schmidt said. "They'll make anyone look bad because of the way they can forecheck and backcheck. However, we had our chances in the first period and couldn't connect."

Crozier, the NHL's Rookie-of-the-Year last season, turned in fine saves on scoring bids by Teddy Green and Al Longlois in the opening minute before the Wings took command.

Baltimore Skaters Lead American League

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Baltimore Clippers have solidified their hold on the basement of the Eastern Division with a 3-2 American Hockey League defeat at the hands of the Cleveland Barons.

It was the third straight loss for Baltimore and all by the same score. There was no other league action Tuesday night.

List Frank Grimaldi of Sangi's Bowlero among bowling operators who are unequivocally in favor of contracts between leagues and establishments.

Grimaldi agrees that any contract should have five basic points: 1. number of weeks of bowling; 2. cost of bowling; 3. day and hour of bowling; 4. fixed number of pin changes and (5) two-weeks notice clause.

"The two weeks notice," said Grimaldi, "should come within two weeks after the conclusion of each bowling season and be binding upon both parties."

"The proprietor," he added, "is entitled to long range protection in planning for the next season."

"You can put me down as solidly in favor of contracts," Grimaldi added. "I believe that a contract properly drawn up, enforced and honored will prove beneficial to both the bowlers and proprietors."

Pertinent Pinfall:

Disparity between college and high school bowling eligibility bugs one. John Schatzel Jr. was barred from the National All Star eliminations. Told to wait until his high school class graduates. Cannot bowl in school league because of participation in local money leagues. Across the way, Len Schmidt and Rich Pasqua of Ulster Community bowl in local leagues and eligibility is not affected. . . . No BPAA qualifying for mid-Hudson area women is a situation that should not exist. . . . The holiday honeymoon is over for reporting scores. No excuses about mails being clogged up. . . . Deadline is 9 a. m., except for Rosendale, New Paltz, Woodstock and Saugerties on 24-hour deadline. . . . Note to lazy secretaries and team captains: We want the first name of your bowlers.

Mid-Hudson Minuets:

Karl (Jake) Charter's temporary "retirement" from league bowling is one of the surprises of the tenpin season. His 228 average last year at the Campi-Tarso Lanes in Newburgh was second best in the country: his 844 the third highest. . . . Out of town hotshots: Jo Pierpont, 668 at Walden, top woman's score of the season. . . . Dick Messina, Newburgh, 725 and Lou Harford, Ellenville, 277-714, new high triple for Hudson Valley Travelling League. . . . Jim Torelli, the Middletown ace, fired 280 and a 1348 six-bagger at Newburgh. He had 584 and 743. League record of 1349 is held by Mike Goldberg of Ellenville. . . . Bob Quinn rolled 716 at Middletown.

Splits and Misses:

Patrolman Ernie Bartroff romancing the tenpins pretty good these days. Ditto Kathy DeCicco, Maude Simmons and June Kolls. Kudos to Adrienne Eccleston, career high of 214; Jim Rose 666 (tops for the week); Al Werbeck 660, Jack Ferraro 909 foursome in Mid-City Classic; Tim Schussler 653, LeRoy Lewis 258. . . . Harold Baltz 622 high in Independent wheel. Guys with their ups and downs: Ken Hendricks, 200-143-221; Tom Kennedy, 269-145-225; Dick Frederick, 202-154-234. . . . Steve Leoce 256. . . . Some bowlers still refer to the YMCA lanes as though they were still there. They're long since gone.

National Notes:

Highest team series in the nation to date is the 3480 rolled by Thomas Masonry of Anaheim, Calif. . . . Best 4-man series — 2853 by Top Score Maintenance, also of Anaheim. . . . Three-man high 2135 by Nick Zorile of Milwaukee. . . . Top doubles: Paul McCullough-Al Huffman, Wichita, Kansas, 1492; Highest team single — 1221 by Paetz Super Valu, Muscatine, Iowa. . . . Eleven "800" series so far, the highest an 816 by Paul McCullough of Wichita, part of the doubles lead, Elvin Mesker, St. Louis on honor roll twice, with 814, and 810. Charles Bellamy, Schenectady, fourth with 812.

Lauri Aianto, 37-year-old dental technician from Helsinki, Finland, captured first International Masters tournament with a 38-game total of 8604 pin, 226 average for the distance. . . . Tom Hathaway of United States placed second. He won the regular All Events title in 1965 ABC.

Balash on Tenpin Binge:

Sis Balash's current pace strongly supports her admirers' contention that she is the best woman bowler in the city. Her composition average for three leagues is a hefty 182, with a city high of 185 in the Sangi Mixed Foursome, 179 in Sangi's Majorettes and 183 in the Ferraro Invitational. Her 230-602 are top marks in the Foursome, ditto 227-598 in the Majorettes. In the Invitational, she boasts high series (642) while Terry Becker and Jean Conti share the singles record with 234.

Elsewhere in the women's circuits, Peggy McHugh and Ann Manfro are tied with 166 averages in the Mid-City Mixed. Rose Schatzel leads the Sunday Night Mixer (Ferraro's) with 171 and shares that same mark with Ann Manfro in the Bowlerama Quads. Veteran Tess Moe is front running with 157 in the Friendship United of States placed second. He won the regular All Events title in 1965 ABC.

Florida Coach Remembers Jinx

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Florida Coach Ray Graves says he doesn't believe in jinxes, but his memories of the Sugar Bowl are anything but pleasant.

Graves brings his Florida football team to New Orleans today to prepare them for their New Year's Day clash with Missouri. The Florida mentor played in the 1941 Sugar Bowl, which calls for a little reminiscing.

"I've always told Frank Leahy that I had as much as anyone to do with making him a great coach," jokes Graves.

Graves was captain and center on the 1940 Tennessee team which bowed to Boston College in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 1, 1941. He is the fifth player to return to the Sugar Bowl as a head coach. The others are former LSU coach Gaynell Tinsley; Charlie McClendon, now the LSU mentor; Texas' Darrell Royal, and Arkansas' Frank Broyles.

Only McClendon, who defeated Syracuse last New Year's Day, was victorious as a coach. The 1941 Sugar Bowl was one of the all-time thrillers.

Graves' Tennessee team, coached by the late Bob Neyland, who was already a legend, was undefeated and untied. Frank Leahy, then 32 and a protégé of Knute Rockne, was making noises at Boston College and also had a team with a perfect record.

"We felt we had them beaten at halftime," recalls Graves. "We were ahead 7-0 and were pretty much in control."

In the third quarter something happened that wasn't supposed to — at least to Tennessee. The Vols had a kick blocked and that was something that didn't occur to Neyland clubs. "I can still see the guy coming in from left side," said Graves. "They blocked Bobby Fox's kick, got the ball and went in to make it 7-7."

"After that, they were a different ball club, and we were sort of in a trance."

The Vols scored again, but Leahy's Eagles tied it 13-13, and the tense fourth quarter began. With six minutes left, BC started to drive from its own 20. Quarterback Charlie O'Rourke passed his team to the Vol 24 with three minutes remaining.

"They were going toward the south end," said Graves. "O'Rourke rolled out to his left and lifted his arm like he was going to pass again. Then he cut back inside tackle."

"I had a clear shot at him and missed. I had another shot at him, and missed. He turned downfield and scored just inside the boundary."

That was the ball game — 19-13 upset for Boston College. A month later, Notre Dame signed Leahy as head coach to replace Elmer Layden.

Rose Bowl Opponents Have Weather Problem

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The threat of a rain-drenched, windswept Rose Bowl worried both Michigan State and UCLA football coaches today.

Tournament of Roses parade officials and the fans who snapped up tickets for the 100, 807-seat arena were equally concerned.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said a developing storm might leave about an inch of rain, then move east late Thursday.

The weatherman predicts clear skies Saturday—but Rose Bowl officials and coaches refused to be comforted by the long-range forecast.

Brown, Columbia Upstate Winners

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four tournaments are on tap tonight as Upstate New York college basketball teams continue play during the Christmas recess.

The Kodak Classic and the Union Tournament move into a second night at Rochester and Schenectady respectively. Meanwhile, the LeMoyne Christmas Invitational begins at Syracuse and Rochester Tech travels to Indiana Tech, also for tournament play.

In Tuesday's Games: Brown University downed the University of Rochester in the first round of the Kodak tournament, 59-51. Earlier, Columbia whipped Pittsburgh, 65-59.

At Schenectady, Hope College of Michigan topped Union, 87-75, and DePauw of Indiana beat MIT, 77-68.

On the West Coast, Vanderbilt halted a Syracuse winning streak in dumping the Orange, 113-98, in the Los Angeles Classic.

Brown, paced by Dave Gale, with 19 points, plays Columbia tonight for the championship at Rochester's War Memorial Auditorium. Columbia is led by Dave Newmark and Stan Felsinger, who each scored 17 points in the Lions' first win in the round-robin play.

Pitt takes on Rochester in a consolation game. In the Union tourney, Hope tackles the Massachusetts quintet and Union faces DePauw.

Hope's Clare Van Wieren emerged as the evening's top scorer as he notched 29 points. Union has won only one of eight games this season.

Steelers Fire Coach Mike Nixon

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Mike Nixon, sudden hit to a football team beset with injuries, inexperience and quarterback problems, has been fired as head coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Steelers owner Art Rooney, who named Nixon interim coach in the wake of Buddy Parker's abrupt resignation just two weeks before the National Football League season began, dismissed Nixon Tuesday. Rooney cited the dismal 2-12 record Pittsburgh compiled under Nixon's guidance.

"The way the ball club did — that's why we let Mike go," said Rooney, who purchased the Steelers in 1933 and has yet to field a divisional winner. Pittsburgh finished last in the Eastern Conference this year.

Nixon was the second NFL coach dismissed in the past week. Harland Sware was fired by the Los Angeles Rams. Nix's assistants — Lavern Torgerson, Tom Keane, Ernie Heffler and Jim Doran — also were let go.

Rooney said the Steelers will begin interviewing candidates for the post and said he has a few names in mind. He declined to identify them.

Rooney said he and Nixon agreed before the regular season that Nixon would serve for one year. Nixon, who had expressed the hope he would get another chance to mold a winner, said the dismissal came as no surprise.

"How can you justify a 2-12 record?" he said.

This is the second time an NFL club has fired Nixon. He was let go by the Washington Redskins after a 4-18-2 record in 1959-60.

Nixon said lack of an experienced quarterback was Pittsburgh's biggest drawback. He used Bill Nelsen, a three-year veteran with limited experience, at the post almost all year.

Nixon said he has no immediate plans. He said he has spent 26 years in professional football and hopes to continue in the sport.

RPI Hockey Tourney Now in Second Round

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — The RPI Invitational Hockey Tournament moves into its second round tonight as Rensselaer Polytech tangles with Middlebury and Western Ontario takes on Bowdoin.

In Tuesday's play, the Mustangs of London, Ont., blasted five first-period goals and went on to crush Middlebury in the opener, 9-0.

LEGAL NOTICES

TAKE NOTICE that a public hearing will be held at the West Hurley Fire House in West Hurley, Town of Hurley, Ulster County, New York, on the 31st day of January, 1966, at 8:00 p. m., upon the application of Louis J. Perry for an amendment of the Zoning Law of the said Town, changing the designation of certain property situated on Route 28 just west of the junction of Route 375, from vacant land to a business classification.

Dated: December 29th, 1965.

FREDERICK C. DOTY, Secretary of the Zoning Board of Appeals.

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, BY THE GRACE OF GOD, FREED AND INDEPENDENT, SEND GREETING.

TO: Charles R. Gibbons, Ruth Smith, Grace Van Arsdale, Leroy Whitford, Harold Clarence Whitford, Veda May Welch, Irwin Robert Whitford, distributees of the Estate of Walter W. Gibbons, deceased.

WHEREAS, Jeanne Barnhart Walquist who resides at 603 Kent Blvd., Salamanca, New York, has lately presented a petition to the Surrogate's Court of our County of Ulster, praying for a decree that a certain instrument in writing, bearing date the 18th day of October, 1962, relating to both real and personal property, be duly proved and admitted to probate as the last will and testament of the said Walter W. Gibbons, late of the Hamlet of Tillsen, in the County of Ulster and State of New York, deceased.

AND WHEREAS, YOU AND EACH OF YOU are cited to show cause, if any you have, before the Surrogate's Court of the County of Ulster at Kingston, N. Y., on the 24th day of January, 1966, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why said will and testament should not be admitted to probate as a will of real and personal property.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we have caused the seal of our Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed.

WITNESS, HON. FRANCIS [L.S.] X. TUCKER, Surrogate of the said County of Ulster at Kingston, N. Y., on the 24th day of January, 1966, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why said will and testament should not be admitted to probate as a will of real and personal property.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, we have caused the seal of our Surrogate's Court to be hereunto affixed.

WITNESS, HON. FRANCIS [L.S.] X. TUCKER, Surrogate of the said County of Ulster at Kingston, N. Y., on the 24th day of January, 1966, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why said will and testament should not be admitted to probate as a will of real and personal property.

Report Collides With FDA Action on Food

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Three Cornell University scientists warn — and the Army denies — that food preserved by nuclear radiation could be deadly.

Their report Tuesday collided also with actions by the Food and Drug Administration, which has approved irradiated bacon, potatoes and wheat products for human consumption.

But the scientists said irradiation was a dangerous procedure for foods containing sugar.

They said sugar breaks down under radiation and can pass on lethal effects to living plant cells and probably to animal and human cells.

Dr. Ferdinand P. Mehrlich, director of the food division of the U.S. Army Laboratories, said, however, that 10 years of testing had failed to show any harmful effects from food preserved by radiation.

Okie Judge Is In Name Only

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Stephen S. Chandler, chief judge of the U.S. District Court for Western Oklahoma, was judge in name only today.

The 10th U.S. Circuit Judicial Council relieved him of all duties Tuesday but allowed the 65-year-old jurist to maintain his $30,000-a-year salary, office and staff.

The 22-year veteran of the bench said he knew the order was coming and, "I have already answered it." He made his comment as he accepted a copy of the order in the U.S. marshal's office.

Four of the five 10th Circuit judges drew up the order Dec. 13. It asserted Chandler is "unable or unwilling" to perform the duties of his office.

Years of controversy lie behind the order. Also involved are recent civil and criminal actions against Chandler.

In the February 1964 American Bar Association Journal, Chandler wrote an article in which he argued vigorously that district courts are coequal with the courts of appeals and should be so considered with respect to salary, prestige and administrative authority.

The council report noted Chandler had been involved in both civil and criminal lawsuits and that two precedents had been brought before the 10th Circuit Court "to disqualify him from handling special litigation."

The report said that Chandler had been a subject of discussion by the council for several years "with particular regard to the attitude and conduct of Judge Chandler" toward the business of the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Oklahoma.

Shooting in Harlem

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Cuban nationals ran down a Harlem street Tuesday, firing almost a score of shots at each other before police stepped in and broke up the dispute. No one was hit.

Police were not certain what the shooting was all about, but they said the men might have gotten into a political dispute.

At least 17 bullets whizzed through the air, shattering store and automobile windows. The pair ran down opposite sides of 140th St.

Wilson to Rest Up

PENZANCE, England (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson went to the Scilly Isles today, off the southwest tip of England, for a short vacation. He said he hoped to get in some golf, walking and reading.

Wilson was accompanied by his wife and son Giles.

Legion Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Rosendale-Tillson Post of the American Legion 1219 will hold a regular meeting at the post home in Tillson Wednesday, Jan. 5, at 8 p. m.

The ladies are also sponsoring a cake sale to be held at the Rosendale Food Center on Saturday, Jan. 15, at 10 a. m. The proceeds of this sale will be given to the Legion's building fund for the post's new hall.

On Mystery Mission

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — U.S. Ambassador at-Large W. Averell Harriman arrived in Warsaw today on a mysterious mission.

U.S. Ambassador John A. Gromowski cut short a visit to the western Polish city of Poznan and left before dawn to meet Harriman. Shortly afterward, they went to the Polish Foreign Ministry.

Harriman was accompanied to Poland by two U.S. Foreign Service officers, David Dean and Christopher Squires.

Dean is a Chinese language expert and specialist on Chinese affairs who regularly takes part in the Warsaw meeting between the U.S. and Chinese Communist ambassadors. Squires is an expert on East European affairs.

World News In Brief

Basic Policy to Hold

MOSCOW (AP) — A news analyst for the official news agency Tass says the Soviet Union will not change its basic policy of coexistence with the West in 1966.

But the analyst, A. Sovetov, indicated that relations with the United States would remain frozen because of the war in Viet Nam.

"The hopes for a possibility of peaceful coexistence with the Soviet Union are vain if the leaders of some imperialist power undertake aggressive steps against any other Socialist country," he wrote.

In Soviet terminology, the United States is an imperialist power and North Viet Nam is a Socialist country.

16 Are Stoned

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Strikers stoned and injured four Americans and 12 Canadians at India's atomic power-plant site when the foreigners tried to repair construction equipment damaged earlier by the striking workers.

Bechtel India Ltd., the American firm which is building the plant at Atmapar, 60 miles from Bombay, reported the incident Tuesday. It did not say when the violence took place or how serious the injuries were.

The strikers "damaged major construction equipment besides smashing office windows and damaging a first-aid center and canteen," a company statement said.

About 5,000 employees have been on strike at the site since Dec. 9 over a wage dispute.

Suspends Magazine

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Nationalist Chinese government has suspended the independent monthly magazine Wen Hsing (Apollo) for a year because it criticized the government.

The Interior Ministry said the magazine had been registered as a publication devoted purely to literary subjects but had become a political journal strongly critical of the government.

Despite Hunger Strike at Prison All Is Peaceful

A silent hunger strike staged Tuesday by 1,800 convicts at Green Haven Prison, Stormville, resumed this morning but there was no indication of any pending disorder, according to Warden Harold W. Follette.

The prisoners refused to talk or eat their noon and evening meals yesterday, and the same refusal took place at breakfast today but again there was no interruption in the normal prison routine.

All At Work

"The men all went to their work assignments," Warden Follette said. "Other than meals, their behavior was more than exemplary."

Nothing that there was no indication of any disorder, Warden Follette said. "It appears to be more of an attention-getting device." He said that talks have been had with a number of inmates and numerous complaints have been voiced by the prisoners. "Most of the complaints are of minor nature," he said.

Follette also said that in addition to grievances claimed by the inmates seeking to bring to the attention of the warden and the Department of Correction their complaints of the need of more athletic equipment and better food, the inmates also charge there is a lack of medical attention.

Very Peaceful

"We are trying to give them the best of everything," the warden said. "Everything this morning is very peaceful."

Follette said there has been no need for alerting State Police at Fishkill or other authorities, because no trouble is anticipated.

Upstate Man Is 64th Victim in Orange County

Orange County's 64th highway fatality of 1965 was recorded Tuesday after Calvin E. Hall, 58, of Canton, died in Goshen Hospital of injuries suffered earlier in the day in a traffic accident near Hamptonburgh.

Hall, identified as an employee of the State Department of Agriculture and Markets, was injured when his car skidded on a curve on Route 207, hit a utility pole and rolled down an embankment.

Ulster County's highway death toll for 1965 is 56. Eight of the deaths occurred this month.

Have Social Problems

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The president of the National Association of Temple Educators told a conference of Jewish educators here Tuesday that social problems previously among Jewish youth are making increasing inroads now.

"We often hear," said Max Frankel, the head of the association, "that there is less delinquency, crime, divorce and alcoholism among Jews than among non-Jews. But these statistics are changing, more and more we are becoming like the majority and have a moral decay caused by the decline of the importance of the home and the changing pattern of family life."

Frankel, principal of the Temple Emanuel School in Denver, said religious schools must keep up with the times and must make their teachings "applicable to daily life."

Thant Names Rikhye

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Indian Maj. Gen. Indarjit Rikhye is the new commander of the United Nations Emergency Force in the Middle East.

Secretary-General U. Thant named Rikhye Tuesday night to succeed Brazilian Maj. Gen. Sarmiento Sarmiento. The force, with headquarters in Gaza, watches over the line between the United Arab Republic and Israel, and over the approaches to the Gulf of Aqaba.

Recover Aldrich Car

CHATHAM, N.Y. (AP) — An anonymous telephone tip Monday night led State Police to a state-owned stolen automobile that had been missing since Nov. 25.

Alexander Aldrich, executive assistant to the governor, examined the car, assigned to him, and told troopers that important papers in the trunk were undisturbed.

The telephone-equipped car was found in a secluded section of a farm, less than five miles from Aldrich's home, near Albany.

Lindsay Names Emergency Group In Transit Threat

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor-elect John V. Lindsay has appointed a top-level committee to develop emergency plans for use in the event of a subway and bus strike.

Lindsay says that appointment of the committee — headed by Timothy W. Costello, who will be a deputy mayor under Lindsay — is "purely a

First Steps to Stock Profit:Directors' Dividend Decisions Depend Upon Company's Health

A corporation's purpose can be boiled down to four words: "To make a profit." The stockholder's tangible evidence of this profit is the dividend check.

Only the board of directors has the power to vote dividends. The directors balance the state of the company's finances and its current earnings against its needs for funds. Interest and principal on debt have the first claim. Perhaps a new factory must be built, or an older one modernized and enlarged. There may be an attractive opportunity to buy out another company for cash. If sales are going up, working capital will be required to carry larger inventories of raw and finished materials. And, of course, there must be money for contingencies.

Next, if there is preferred stock, the directors consider whether to pay its dividend. Preferred dividends are not automatic, but directors are reluctant to omit them, because Wall Street would take that as a signal that the company was having problems. Too, it is an extra burden to catch up later on dividends that are cumulative. Finally, the directors decide on a dividend to holders of the common. It is normal for a large corporation to pay dividends on its common stock—87 per cent of the 1,250-plus commons listed on the New York Stock Exchange receive dividends, and three of them (American Home Products, Winn-Dixie Stores and Wm. Wrigley Jr.) have monthly payments.

A stock's investment reputation is enhanced if dividends are paid at a monthly rate which is rarely reduced, but is occasionally raised. Thus directors will try to adopt a rate that can safely be maintained. In a good year they may vote one or more extra payments, and when the company's affairs seem to be permanently improved they will raise the regular rate.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advance picked up steam in moderate trading early this afternoon.

However, the list was dotted with losses. Most changes of key issues were fractional but a few ran to a point or two.

Steels, mail order-retails, electronics, utilities, rails, oils and airlines joined in the advance. Aircrafts and farm implements declined.

New York Central and Pennsylvania Railroad advanced about 2 points on a Wall Street Journal report that the Interstate Commerce Commission had approved their proposed merger. The ICC issued a denial.

A report of record sales and earnings for 1965 sent RCA to a gain of more than a point. The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was up 1.1 to 355.6 with industrials up 1.4, rails up .7 and utilities up .5.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon had gained 3.89 to 961.85. The airlines bounced back after being tossed for a sharp loss Tuesday. United advanced more than 2 points and Eastern gained nearly 2.

The aircrafts, buffeted Tuesday by news of new true proposals in the Viet Nam war, continued weak with Douglas and General Dynamics losing about 2 points and United and Boeing falling about 1.

The averages were helped by a jump of more than 3 points by Du Pont. U.S. Steel and Republic Steel tacked on more than half a point. International Harvester and Caterpillar lost fractions.

Woodstock . . .

nance and map as they presently exist and cause the ordinance to be published pursuant to Section 264 of the Town Law. As the board stood up to be counted, following a second by Justice of the Peace Rudolph Baumgarten, Molyneux, Baumgarten, Justice of the Peace Charles Farley and Councilman William West Jr. voted "yes," and Councilman Gottlob Wagner cast the lone dissenting vote.

Wagner opposed the ordinance on the grounds that it establishes the controlled use of privately owned property, taking away rights guaranteed by the Constitution. He voiced opposition to the way the ordinance is now written, and criticized the section that makes violation of the ordinance a criminal act, punishable by jail sentence and other penalties. He called parts of the ordinance "far fetched."

A comment for the record by Councilman West who will take office as Woodstock's newly elected supervisor on Jan. 1, was something of a tip-off on how West will conduct himself in the next two years. Said West: "I think that with anything we do in a democratic society, we are never quite satisfied with the way things go. I hope that after we have lived with this ordinance for awhile, we will consider future revisions and simplifications."

Molyneux, who obviously views the passage of the ordinance and the long delayed accomplishment of zoning as the final feather in the cap of his administration, argued gently but persuasively against West's attitude. He maintained that the board had studied the ordinance at great length with respect to land control and had considered all possible means of simplifying the ordinance and keeping it from becoming too big and unwieldy. Such copies such aims, he said, never reaches perfection, but Woodstock's new ordinance is flexible and can be varied by the board after requirements are met.

The board will arrange to have 500 copies of the ordinance printed, following its publication in the official newspaper, bound in such form as to allow amendments in the future. These will be made available to all those interested. Such copies will not include the zoning map which will have to be printed separately for town purposes.

The final passage of zoning for Woodstock came some 25 years after the project was first proposed here. Last night's board meeting put the cap on what has long been one of the town's greatest needs and the meeting, which lasted only a brief half hour, accomplished more for zoning than all the arguments and paperwork which preceded it. Looking triumphant, Molyneux accepted congratulations following the meeting and, in the process, tossed a bouquet to two other residents who had fought for zoning—Planning Board chairman Benjamin Webster, who took up the battle prior to World War II and carried it into 1965, and ex-Councilman Tobie Geertsema, who proposed the resolution which led to the formation of the Planning Board and paved the way for zoning back in 1959.

The only other business conducted by the board was the acceptance of a recommendation by Superintendent of Highways Albert Cashdollar to make Oriole and Cardinal Drives in the Anton Hunt development in Zena town roads. The acceptance of these roads which run off Vandenberg Road and are presently built up with occupied houses, was duly recorded.

New Diamond Cutting Available at Barnett's

Diamond circles in Europe have recently become excited about a new and more brilliant type of diamond cutting which is attracting attention wherever diamonds are cut, sold, and worn. This new diamond brilliance is a result of a major scientific breakthrough in the century old art of diamond cutting.

The new diamond cutting is available locally at Barnett's Jewelry and Gift Shop at 41 North Front Street. When 58-facet cutting was introduced back at the turn of the century it was found far superior to the "old mine" type of diamond cutting and practically all diamonds have been cut with this standard 58-facet cutting. At the time, 58-facets were believed to give the greatest amount of light refraction and brilliance to a diamond. Today, through this new advance in diamond cutting, Princess 144 diamonds can be, and are, cut with 144 facets. This is nearly two and one half times as many surfaces as the former cutting, which means far greater brilliance and beauty in a stone.

N.Y. Fifth in Acreage

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—New York ranked fifth among the states in acreage, production and value of fresh market vegetables in 1965, the State Agriculture Department reported today. The total value of the crops dropped 7 per cent from 1964, to $42.5 million, a spokesman said. Although the harvested acreage—75,400—were almost the same as last year's, total production increased 12 per cent this year, to 13,130,000 hundredweight.

Upstate cabbage-growers produced a record yield per acre and the largest production since 1956 and celery yield hit an all-time high. Farmers planted a record acreage of onions, which, combined with an above-average yield per acre, resulted in the highest production for the vegetable recorded in this state, the Agriculture Department said.

Fails to Reach 100th

ONEONTA, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Foster had looked forward to her 100th birthday with lively anticipation. She was thrilled by a congratulatory message sent in advance by President Johnson. And her friends at the nursing home in Fox Hospital planned a party for the big day—Tuesday.

On Christmas Eve, however, the sprightly widow was stricken with a heavy cold. She was still ailing Tuesday, and the party was postponed.

Tuesday night, as her birthday drew to a close, Mrs. Foster died.

Patience Necessary When Holding Conservatives

(Q) "You have stated in your column that American Telephone and Sears, Roebuck were good growth stocks. I bought both and so far their action has been disappointing. Is there any reason for this and do you think I should sell? I am single, in a high tax bracket and don't need income."

(A) Yours is a very reasonable and intelligent question. Both stocks you own offer strong value and have shown excellent growth for many years. Sears, Roebuck has slowed down in price because it was overbought at the time if its recent stock split. The shares have doubled in price since 1960, and are now consolidating. I have never recommended this issue or Telephone as stocks for quick gains.

Both stocks will, I believe, enhance your capital if held for a reasonable period. Telephone also was heavily overbought by the public after its 1964 stock split. Its outlook is temporarily damaged by the prolonged rate investigation by the FCC. If you have patience, I would hold both issues. Otherwise, shift to Magnox or Polariod, which are faster movers but entail more market risk.

(Q) "My sister was recently widowed and must depend on dividends from stocks shown below. She has $50,000 in cash to invest and my advice is to buy tax-exempt bonds. Do you concur?"

(A) Your sister has a generally good portfolio but, in my opinion, a disproportionate amount in oils. In her place, I would sell Shamrock Oil and Gas and Royal Dutch, which seem least favorable from a growth standpoint. Since she is already heavily invested in stocks, I believe your suggestion is sound.

Tax-exempts have come down considerably in price and, although they may work lower, they certainly offer a relatively attractive return at current levels. She can get a yield for 3.25 on State of Delaware 3s of 1981; return of 3.25 on Spokane, Wash., S. D. No. 81, due 1976. Both are rated AA.

equitable for both merchants and customer.

Aid Master Barbers

Concerning the amendment to the General Business Law, Wilson said that his proposed legislation would affect the law as it pertains to the operation of barber shops in New York State. His bill would correct one unfair aspect of the law which does not allow a master barber to be absent from his shop while an apprentice barber is on duty, even though the absence might be for a valid reason. If the Wilson bill is approved a master barber would be able to leave the shop for meals, or for some emergency, without running the risk of being penalized.

Several other important pieces of legislation are under study by the assemblyman which will concern such matters as humane slaughter, tax exemptions for persons over 65 years of age, urban renewal, curbing along state highways, certain exemptions from the sales tax, and the improper use of the American flag and the American eagle for commercial purposes. He will announce the contents of these bills as soon as they are prepared.

Wilson stated that when the legislature convenes on January 5, he sincerely hopes that the Assembly will not have to go through the same painful ordeal it experienced last year when the Democrats failed to select their leadership.

This failure by the Democrats to select their leadership subjected the people of the state to five weeks of complete inaction by the legislature.

1,000 Bills Filed

Assemblyman Wilson said that already there are almost 1,000 bills in the Assembly, and almost 500 in the Senate which have been printed and forwarded to the proper committees.

With the normal increase in the number of bills submitted each year, and the increase in the number of legislators this year, the legislature can expect far more than the 10,000 bills which were submitted in the last session, and it is imperative that which produced that party's plan, had used cities as the starting point for drawing Assembly districts.

Republicans Score

Since many of the cities are Democratically controlled, he said, Democratic votes would dominate the new Assembly districts.

Democratic Appointees

Senate majority leader Joseph Zaretzky and Assembly Speaker Anthony J. Travia appointed the advisory group. Gov. Rockefeller refused to name any members.

The Legislature and Gov. Rockefeller are under a State Supreme Court order to enact a reapportionment plan by Feb. 1. It would go into effect in next November's election.

Prospects for reaching the target date are darkened by the political split in the 1966 session—Republicans control the Senate and Democrats the Assembly.

In addition, several Democrats have criticized the plan's effect on their districts, and it is questionable whether the plan would get a Democratic majority in the Assembly.

At the same time, Republican assemblymen are objecting to a tentative version of the GOP plan. Legislators in both parties seek district lines most favorable to re-election.

Struck by a car on Route 145 at the intersection of Stone Bridge Road Extension, Greenville, at 2:55 p. m. Tuesday, James F. Teator, 35, of Hannacroix, suffered injuries of both legs and was taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital. State Police Sergeant G. E. Brown of Leeds said the car was operated by Louis Henningsen, 73, of Schoharie. Teator suffered fractures of both legs and a broken knee, according to troopers.

The legislature be prepared to function as a legislative body as soon as it is convened on January 5.

Hearing Thursday On City Budget

Mayor John J. Schwenk will conduct a hearing on the 1966 budget Thursday starting at 7:30 p. m., in the Common Council chamber, City Hall.

Still working on the budget today, the mayor was unable to give an indication of what the new tax rate will be, but he expects that it will be lower than the 1965 rate of $68.32 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

This year's rate was 34 cents higher than that in 1964. A report on the new tax rate, which in some years has been available before Christmas, was delayed a year ago to the date of hearing because of a late report on county charges and a miscalculation of the need for certain changes.

Burglary Is Probed At Dutchess Store

Investigation of a burglary at the Potter Bros. Sporting Goods Inc., 26 New Market Street, Poughkeepsie, which netted intruders about $1,500 in merchandise, continued today without a clue, according to Acting Police Chief McManus.

Potter Bros. operates a sporting goods store at 294 Fair Street, city.

McManus said Patrolman Richard Purdy was backing up with another officer checking stores at about 3:35 a. m. Monday, when he discovered sweaters and other articles in an alley near the sporting goods store.

Further investigation by detectives disclosed that glass had been broken in a side window of the store near the latch and the intruders squeezed their way through a seven-inch opening between bars outside the window. The store was ransacked and the loot was taken out through the window, which police said was the means of exit for the burglars.

The loot consisted of ski equipment, sweaters, caps and other items. In addition to the merchandise valued at about $1,500, the thieves took about $26 in cash from the register, police said.

Miners Die in Explosion

REDSTONE, Colo. (AP)—At least eight miners, and probably nine, were killed in a methane gas explosion in the No. 1 Dutch Creek coal mine, 28 miles southwest of Glenwood Springs, late Tuesday night.

Officials said eight bodies have been found. They said shift records showed that nine miners were in the No. 4 south tunnel of the workings when the blast occurred.

The men all lived in the Carbondale-Glenwood Springs area in western Colorado. All were married and most of them had children.

The mine is operated by the Mid-Continental Coal & Coke Co. with headquarters in Chicago and offices in Glenwood Springs. Miners in other tunnels of the workings were not injured.

Thinks Hanoi Split On Cease-Fire Bid

HONG KONG (AP)—A weekly magazine quotes an unidentified senior member of the International Control Commission for Indochina as saying Communist North Viet Nam's government is spent on the question of opening cease-fire negotiations with Saigon and Washington.

The diplomat, who shuttles between Saigon and Hanoi every month, was quoted by the Far Eastern Economic Review as saying President Ho Chi Minh of North Viet Nam is considering negotiations but is strongly opposed by a faction backed by Red China. This faction is pictured as demanding more North Vietnamese regular troops for the war in the South.

The International Control Commission is made up of members from India, Canada and Poland. A senior member would be head of its delegation. The commission was established by the Geneva conference of 1954 to supervise terms of that agreement which drew a demarcation line between North and South Viet Nam.

Denies Report ICC Has Approved Rail Merger

NEW YORK (AP)—The Wall Street Journal reported today that the Interstate Commerce Commission has approved the merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads. But the ICC promptly denied it.

An ICC spokesman in Washington said the agency neither has voted on the merger "nor is a vote imminent." The newspaper said the ICC was expected to announce its decision in mid-January and that the unification would be effective April 1.

Its story, written before the ICC denial, added: "In Washington, the ICC— which normally would have quickly struck down such a report if untrue— refused to comment."

Gale Winds Ease But Rain, Snow Add to Miseries

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winds diminished from gale force, but more rain fell in areas from Northern California to Washington today and heavy snow piled up in mountain sections.

The three-day storm in the Pacific Northwest has caused extensive property damage. Power was knocked out in several communities. Many roads and some major mountain passes were closed. Floods from rain-swollen rivers and streams threatened some areas.

Rain was reported in nearly every city from Puget Sound to Southern California. More than eight inches of rain hit Cape Blanco on the southern Oregon coast.

Winds of 70 m.p.h. Tuesday halted four ships outside San Francisco's Golden Gate for several hours as storms battered the area. The rain and high winds extended into northwestern Nevada.

A blizzard swept Mt. Shasta in Northern California and derailed a freight car at Dunsuir delayed the Southern Pacific's Cascade passenger train for more than nine hours Tuesday. The train runs between Portland, Ore., and Oakland, Calif.

Warm, southerly winds took the chill out of most of the central part of the nation, including areas where temperatures had dropped to below zero in Northern sections in the last few mornings. Readings in most other areas were generally above normal except in northern New England and near the northern border of Montana.

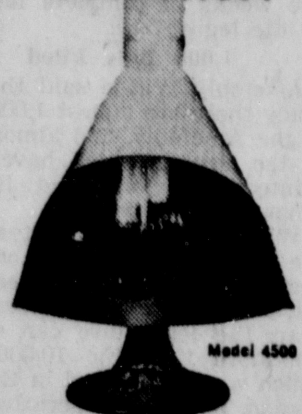

Rig Survivor Has Stroke, Called Poor

GRIMSBY, England (AP) — Dean Sutherland, an American supervisor who survived the sinking Monday of the oil rig Sea Gem in the North Sea, suffered a stroke in his hotel room Tuesday night.

He was taken to Scartho Hospital in Grimsby where officials said today he was in "very poor condition."

Sutherland, 45, from Laurel, Neb., headed a small team of experts who went aboard the British Petroleum Co. drilling platform a few days ago to jack up the supporting legs and move it to a new location. Sea Gem apparently sank during the jacking operation.

Rain or Snow Due Friday

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts for Upstate New York, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from Thursday through Monday:

Changeable weather is expected, with some rain or snow about Friday and Sunday. Temperatures will average well above normal, with somewhat cooler weather likely Friday and Monday. Daytime temperatures will average 35 to 45 degrees. Nighttime lows will range from 25 to 35.

Log Derails 12 Cars, 14-18 Hurt

CORFU, N.Y. (AP) — Twelve of 15 cars of the New York Central's Cleveland Limited, carrying about 170 passengers, were derailed today by a log on the tracks near this community east of Buffalo.

At least 14 and possibly 18 persons were taken to hospitals, none reported seriously injured. Others were treated at the scene for shock.

The railroad's general manager, Edward Claypool, who was aboard, attributed the wreck to the log. Claypool was not injured.

The train was bound from New York City to Cleveland. Three persons were admitted to Genesee Memorial Hospital in Batavia. They were:

Henry Taskinen, 67, of Haywood Beach, Lake Rd. West, Ash-tabula, Ohio; his wife, Henni, 64 and Mrs. Dorothy M. Schluraff, 51, of 2726 W. Lake Rd., Erie, Pa.

Treated and released from the hospital were:

Alex Gelber, 44, of 54 Henley Rd., Buffalo and his children, Susan, 11 and Martin, 8. Gelber's wife, Frieda, age unknown, was admitted to Millard Fillmore Hospital, Buffalo.

Also: Ignatius Muzik, age unknown, his wife and a daughter, Zorica, about 6, of 78 Beekman St., North Tarrytown, N.Y.; Robert Schluraff, husband of Mrs. Dorothy Schluraff, age unknown, of the same address as his wife; McDonald Blackett, 63, of 8 Albany Ave., Brooklyn. He was the train's cook.

Also: Dennis Donovan, 59 and his wife Helen, 67, of 1343 Mor-ris Ave., The Bronx; Garesper Ziolla, 66, his wife, Camilla, 61, and their son, Michael, 14, of 829 Alhambra Rd., Cleveland, Ohio.

Admitted to St. Jerome's Hospital in Batavia were:

Joseph Uhlík, 67, of 3704 E. 57th St., Cleveland, Ohio and Robert M. Ward, 43, of 11 Clifford Rd., Menands, a railroad mail clerk.

Treated and released from the hospital were:

Mary Uhlík, age unknown wife of Joseph and of the same address; and Joseph P. King, 48, of 54 South Second Ave., Mt. Vernon, King is a railroad mail clerk.
